THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XVIII. ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY MORNING MAY 11, 1887 PRICE FIVE CENTS

NEARLY A RIOT.

THE DIFFICULTY WILLIAM O'BRIEN HAD IN LANDING.

He Is Insulted by the Captain and Some of the Passengers of the Umbria—His Narrow Escape from Drowning While Being Transferred.

NEW YORK, May 10.—[Special.]—It was nearly 4 o'clock this morning when William O'Brien the Irish nationalist envoy to Canada, to denounce Lord Lansdowne's wholesale evictions of his tenantry in Ireland, reached the Hoffman house. He had a narrow escape from being thrown overboard, while being lowered from the Umbria to the boat John E. Moore, chartered by the committee to receive him. While one section of the passengers was singing "God Save the Queen," the big crowd in the steerage responding with "God Save Ireland," some one cut the rope and Mr. O'Brien fell into the arms of some members of the committee, who were fortunately standing below to help him aboard the tug.

The scene that followed on the Umbria was so tumultuous that a riot was imminent. Bishop Ireland was obliged to interfere several time to calm the passion of the great mass of steerage passengers.

"I did not witness the greater part of the stormy scene when the tug came alongside," said Mr. O'Brien, "but I will never forget it. I knew that an entertainment was in progress in the saloon, and when I heard shouts from the boat John E. Moore for some person on board the steamship, I did not at first suppose that I was the person. Captain McMicken shouted back in the gruffest possible manner (and indeed he acted in the most unpleasant way throughout, to put it mildly,) that no one should leave his vessel till the health officer came aboard. Some other conversation followed between him and those in the boat that I did not catch in the excitement and confusion, and finally I called out:

"'Does anyone in that boat want me, William O'Brien?'

"A shout of ayes followed, and I immediately shouted back, 'Then I will go down to spite this miserable set of cowards here,' for they acted contemptuously throughout, and I descended steadily till the rope gave way. The Irish difficulty (humorously) came near being settled with a short swim. As to the conversation between Health Officer Smith and Captain McMicken, angry or otherwise, during the tumult I know nothing personally. But I do know that it would not require many words to get our people in the steerage up to a fighting point."

In reply to the address of greeting on board the tug, Mr. O'Brien said:

I thank you again and again for this very kind and hospitable welcome, which shows that love for the green little island is still strong in your souls as it always is in the hearts of our countrymen. Every Irishman is a better Irishman for coming to America. As we passed the Galley head, poor fishermen came out in their little boats and cheered us until they were lost sight of. The last things we saw were bonfires on the hills as the dear old country faded from sight. Now, after 3,000 miles over ocean and miles away from land, the first thing we find is a number of enthusiastic Irishmen to greet us. We came out upon a delicate task. We come to let Irish-Canadians know just what kind of rack-renting the champion Lord Lansdowne is. We are going to tell three millions of Canadians how Ireland is being depopulated by the brutal system he represents. We have done one thing during the last three months; we have stopped paying rent to these rack-renters. Not one man who was evicted has broken faith with the policy and the plan of campaign we organized. We make the landlord support every evicted tenant out of the rent tenants should pay. Lansdowne was the first to draw the sword against the poor people. We have come to let the people of Canada be judges between us and Lansdowne. We know what the results will be—victory. Ireland's prospects are now brighter than ever. We will show this Lansdowne that we have got as good men as he has.

It demonstrates the kindly feeling that Americans have for us and our cause, when I find that you, gentlemen, have hovered about this bay for us. If we go down it will be with our faces to the foe, but I don't think we are going down in the brutal storm that these tyrants have raised. The hearts of the people are with us. They have faith in us and confidence in the cause we represent, while the cause of the landlord is drooping and fast ebbing away. This fight will go on if you Americans will trust us. It is your support of our cause and our great leader—Charles S. Parnell—that has brought victory almost within range of our vision. I thank you kindly for this reception.

Among the visitors who called on him were ex-Mayor Grace, Amos J. Cummings, Joseph I. C. Clark, Henry H. Brown, John J. Rogers, Hugh Waldron and members of the reception committee. About 3 o'clock he met a number of reporters by appointment and chatted for nearly an hour with them.

The editor of "United Ireland" is a little fair-haired, face-bearded man, in the prime of mental and bodily vigor. He talks rapidly and fluently in a low, clear voice, the accent of which at once proclaims his nationality, and as he speaks his shrewd, keen eyes twinkling behind his spectacles, facial expression and his gestures are as expressive as his words. The arrangements for his trip, he said, would depend on the Canadians themselves. He proposed to address meetings at Montreal, Quebec, Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto and perhaps London, Ont., in the course of a fortnight. Probably his speech will, in substance, be the same in each place. He is going to deal with Lord Lansdowne not as a representative of the queen, but as an evictor engaged in devastating and depopulating a whole range of country five miles in extent.

"Canadian people," he went on to say, "have again and again voted large sums for the relief of Irish distress. We propose to show them a much more effectual way to cure the causes of distress than the grants of alms. The Canadian parliament has just voted a resolution denouncing coercion in Ireland. We propose to give them the best of all possible opportunities of striking a blow at this coercion, the object of which is to enable swarms of rack-renters to follow Lord Lansdowne's example."

In answer to the question whether he had no fear from the Orange faction in Canada, he said:

"Well, if Lord Lansdowne can't make no better answer to our case than by inflaming miserable sectarian animosities and invoking riot or violence, he will have made a more damning indictment against himself than any we could attempt to make."

Speaking of the Parnell letter, of which so much has been said and written, he asserted most emphatically that it was a forgery and a very clumsy one at that. He would not say that Piggott was the forger, but he spoke of him as a renegade, and said that if he did not write it he was fully capable of just such thing. Mr. O'Brien says that if he gets back from Canada safely, of which he has no doubt, he will spend a week speaking in New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

Asked as to condition of Mr. Parnell, he said that rumors of the alarming state of his health should be taken "with a grain of salt." He also desired to say that in his trip north he would be personally responsible for his actions and sayings, repudiating suggestions that he was going under cut and dried instructions or acting as a mere party mouth piece.

The last thing Mr. O'Brien did in New York was to make a brief call on Eugene Kelly. He went north on the 6:30 p. m. train from the Grand Central station. Judge Browne, General James R. O'Beirne, Major John Byrne, J. J. Delany, Bryan G. McSwyney, Peter White and David Connelly accompanied him to the station and bade him good-bye. Dennis Kilbride, one of the evicted Lansdowne tenants, who is to be his right hand support in his tour, did not get ashore from the Umbria in time for the train, but will follow him as soon as he can.

The unusual scene which attended the departure of Mr. O'Brien from the Umbria seems to have been the result of a trifling incident which made him unpopular with the cabin passengers on the Umbria. As told by an officer of the ship, and confirmed by several of the passengers, Mr. O'Brien delayed the departure of the vessel from Queenstown about an hour and a half, and had it not been for this, it was believed that she would have arrived at Sandy Hook before the fog set in on Saturday, and thus would have made it possible to land her passengers early Sunday morning.

DOWNING THE DYNAMITER.

An Intruder at an Anti-Coercion Meeting Hustled Out.

CHICAGO, May 10.—There was a sensational incident at the anti-coercion meeting at battery D last night. A few minutes before 9 o'clock a man was seen pushing his way toward the platform. He was busily engaged in distributing flaming red circulars. The word went round that the man was an intruder, and one of the committee of arrangements was sent to know his business there and how he came to be disturbing the meeting. One glance at the circular settled it, and the distributor of the red paper was immediately hustled toward the door. He resisted and fought with the tenacity and courage of a bulldog. Two or three stalwart police were called to the scene and the intruder was dragged outside the building. His pockets were stuffed with circulars, and as the officers shook him into submission a shower of red handbills fell from the folding of his clothes. These circulars read as follows:

By Irishmen, Ireland will be free. No home rule. Total separation, nothing else. Dynamite is the indigestible pill for John Bull.

UNITED RESOLUTIONS, I. C. R.

No one knew what the last three letters represented, and when the dynamiter was asked to explain he would offer no explanation, and the patrol took him to the armory. To a reporter he said his name was Fitzpatrick, and that he was a painter by trade.

"Yes, I'm a dynamiter," said he, "and I've been one all my life. I believe in dynamite as the only power for Ireland. Won't England rejoice when it reaches that country that an Irishman was locked up in Chicago for preaching dynamite."

FOR AND AGAINST.

Petitions Received by the Interstate Commission—A Suit Under the Law.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—A communication was received at headquarters of the interstate commerce commission today from merchants and manufacturers of Biloxi, Miss., protesting against the suspension of the long and short hand clause, and complaining of discrimination against Biloxi by the Louisville and Nashville railroad.

Bennie & Co, wellbucket manufacturers of Thompson, Tenn., request a suspension of the clause, while brokers and commission merchants of New Orleans, and Terray & Sons, millers of Washington, protest against its suspension.

ST. LOUIS, May 10.—It is said that a case under the interstate commerce bill will be brought against the Louisville, Evansville and St Louis railway. The line contracted to take several hundred cars of corn from East St. Louis to a seaboard point. Subsequent developments, it is charged, proved the through billing to have been made for the purpose of concealing the real point of delivery, which was Louisville. The corn was purchased, it is alleged, for distilling purposes in Louisville, and the railroad engaged to deliver it at its destination at a less rate than its own published schedule of tolls, which was the tariff agreed upon between itself and competitors, and which was made to conform to the requirements of the long and short haul feature of the commerce law.

The plan of operation of the line was, it is said, to bill the corn from East St. Louis to Atlantic coast points, stop it en route at Louisville, and deliver it to the owner at that point, taking only its own percentage of the through rate for the haul instead of the tariff to Louisville proper. The Louisville rate is 12 cents a hundred, and the proportion of the through grain rate belonging to the roads between Louisville and East St. Louis is 8 cents.

It is asserted that two charges will be filed against the traffic manager in the federal court, one for false billing, which discriminated in favor of the owner of this particular lot of corn, and the other for lowering the rate from East St. Louis to Louisville for the benefit of certain individuals and then advancing it to the former tariff without giving public notice of such purpose as required by the interstate commerce law.

CHARLESTON, May 10.—The chamber of commerce today appointed a committee to memorialize the interstate commerce commission in favor of an immediate enforcement of the interstate commerce law.

Ruined by the Interstate Law.

CHICAGO, May 10.—The second failure in the barb wire business has just been announced. The firm is that of Schnabel & Co. Their liabilities will reach $303,000, and their assets are about $175,000. In an interview with a journal reporter, Mr. Marsh of the firm of Sherman, Marsh & Co., attributed his failure to the interstate commerce law.

The two firms have been in existence about seven years, employing 130 men and were making money rapidly until after the passage of the interstate commerce law when the railroads established rates which enabled competitors shipping by water to sell cheaper. Each firm was on the other's paper. The principal creditors are the Washburn and Moen Manufacturing company, Commercial National bank, American Wire company, Merchant's Loan and Trust company, the H. P. Nail company, Coma Barb company, New Haven Wire company, John A. Roebling's Sons company and Cambria Iron company.

CONTESTED ELECTIONS.

The Limited Time in Which Contestants Can File Papers.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The law passed by the last congress to regulate congressional election contests allow thirty days after the filing of a certificate of election for the contestant to give notice of a contest, thirty days for the contestee to reply, and thirty days for the taking of testimony, which shall be forwarded to the clerk of the house without unnecessary delay. This testimony has been received by the clerk of the house in the contested case of McDuffie against Davidson, of Alabama; Worthington against Post, of Illinois; Lowry against White, of Indiana; Frank vs. Glover, of Missouri, and Smalls vs. Elliott, of South Carolina. The time limitation has not yet expired in the New Hampshire case of Haynes against McKenzie. In the case of Theobe against Carlisle, the period within which testimony must be taken ended on the 25th ultimo, but no testimony has been received by General Clark, clerk of the house. General Clark says there may have been some delay in forwarding testimony, although he has not been apprised of any.

DROPPED FROM THE ROLLS.

A Disgraced Army Officer—Trade Dollars, Etc.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—An order was today issued from the war department by direction of the president, dropping Second Lieutenant John Shaw from the rolls of the army from May 9th. Lieutenant Shaw was charged with duplicating his pay accounts, but disappeared before he was arrested.

Reports received at the treasury department show that 6,500,426 trade dollars have been redeemed to date. The principal redemption was in Philadelphia. The law authorizing the redemption of the trade dollars has already been in operation over two months and has nearly four months more to run. It was originally estimated that there were about 7,000,000 of these coins in this country and the redemption show that the estimate is nearly correct. The importations from China and Japan may swell the amount to $8,000,000

THE WIDOW AND ORPHAN

MEETINGS OF SEVERAL BENEVOLENT SOCIETIES.

Supreme Lodge Knights of Honor—Reports of Officers—Short History of the Order—The Catholic Knights of America—The Independent Order of B'nai Brith.

PHILADELPHIA, May 10.—The supreme lodge of Knights of Honor met in secret session at the Continental hotel this afternoon. The session will continue ten days. The Knights of Honor was organized June 30, 1873, in Louisville, by James A. Demoree, and sixteen young men. Mr. Demoree is still identified with the order as grand reporter. In the fourteen years of the order's existence it has distributed $26,000,000 to its sick members and the widows and orphans of its deceased members.

When Judge L. A. Gratz, of Knoxville, Tennessee, supreme dictator, called the body to order at 2 o'clock, 130 delegates, representing thirty-five states and the District of Columbia, presented their credentials. The afternoon was taken up by the reading of the reports of the supreme dictator, treasurer and secretary, and regular business will not be reached until to-morrow's session. Many of the delegates are accompanied by their wives, and the national lodge of Pennsylvania has appointed a committee to fittingly provide for their entertainment during the ten days the lodge will be in session.

Nomination and election of officers is set down for Thursday, when it is thought a spirited contest for the position of supreme dictator will take place.

The report of B. F. Nelson, supreme reporter, shows that at the beginning of last month the total membership was 126,002, a slight decrease over last year. The report of the supreme treasurer, Joseph W. Branch, shows that during the fourteen years of the order's existence, a total of $26,000,000 have been distributed. Total receipts of widows and orphans benefit fund, during 1886, was $3,080,018 and up to April 25th, 1887, $1,062,603; total, $4,143,522 16. Balance on hand on April 25, was $69,305. In the general fund, balance on hand, April 25, was $16,058. There is a special fund of $21,375.

B'NAI BRITH.

A Report Increasing the Endowment to Thirty Dollars.

MEMPHIS, May 10.—Today's session of district grand lodge No. 7. Independent Order of B'nai B'rith was devoted to reports of committees of minor importance. Towards the close of the session, the endowment committee reported unanimously in favor of $1,500 endowment with annual dues of $30. The report will be thoroughly discussed tomorrow and promises to evoke vigorous opposition. The present annual dues are $24. Pending the retirement of the committee on endowment, Hon. B. F Petixotto, of New York, made a stirring address urging united action in behalf of the Jewish emigrants from foreign shores. The delegates were banquetted tonight at Guyoso hotel, by local lodges.

Catholic Knights of America.

CHICAGO, May 10.—The supreme delegates of the Catholic Knights of America are in session in this city. The organization is one of the strongest, if not the strongest, of Catholic organizations in the United States, and now numbers among its members fully 10,000 believers in that faith. The supreme delegates represent state societies, and two from each state and territory are in attendance at the present meeting. They meet once in two years, the last biennial session having been held in New York city.

DESTRUCTION OF A VILLAGE.

Lebanon, New Hampshire, in Ashes—Fires Elsewhere.

HANOVER N. H., May 10.—The fire at Lebanon, New Hampshire, this morning, destroyed eighty buildings, and caused a loss of fully three hundred thousand dollars, with insurance of not more than $111,000. The fire originated in Mead, Mason & Co's. furniture factory, at 1 o'clock, and burned four hours. The buildings burned included all of Mead, Mason & Co's. shops and storehouses, Kendrick & Davis's watch factory, C. M. Baxter's machine shops, S. Cole & Son's foundry and machine shops, Rogers's woolen mill, formerly a sponge factory, B. T. Tilden's woodworking shop, occupied by Muchmore & Whipple, and others, W. T. Shaw's grist mill, the Free Press printing office building, livery stable and marble shop, Baldwin's block, Pulsifer's block, Marston's saw mill, old Lafayette hotel building, C. D. Scott's livery stable, the Mascoma house, twenty-five dwellings, and the balance storehouses, barns and shops.

The burned district covers nearly ten acres on both sides of Mascoma river and on both sides of Mascoma, High, Mill and Hanover streets. Every manufacturing establishment in the village, except Hendricks's brick woolen mill, is destroyed. Fire companies from Enfield and Hanover reached Lebanon about three o'clock and assisted in checking the fire at Whipple's brick block, on Hanover street. A special train from Concord, with a steamer under charge of Chief Engineer Newhall, arrived at 6:30 a. m., and relieved the exhausted local firemen. Six hundred men are thrown out of employment and sixty families are homeless.

DURHAM, N. C., May 10.—The plug tobacco factory, of Corbett, Patton & Co. was destroyed by fire last night, Nothing was saved. Loss $16,000; insurance about $12,000. Supposed to have been struck by lightning.

READING THE CODE.

Interesting Scenes in the Virginia Legislature.

RICHMOND, Va, May 10.—In the house of delegates today the new code came up for consideration. The republicans at once began filibustering, and insisted upon the reading of the voluminous document. The democrats endeavored to have the reading dispensed with, but the republicans demanded it, and the reading was begun. The democrats decided to keep the house in continuous session till the work should be concluded. The reading tonight is dragging along monotonously, the members paying little or no attention to it. Unless a change in tactics should be made, a prolonged session may be expected, as the reading of the document will occupy from 40 to 50 hours. Readers are being relieved every half hour.

VIRGINIA'S DEBT QUESTION.

Report of the Legislative Committee Submitted—No Action Taken.

RICHMOND, Va., May 10.—There have been no new developments today with regard to the debt settlement. The report of the committee, which was telegraphed last night, was submitted to both houses of the general assembly today, but no action was taken upon it. Mr. Royall, counsel here for the council of foreign bondholders, sent a cablegram to that body, advising the modification of terms submitted by the English commissioners. He has not yet received a reply. In answer to a question to-day, he said he did not know what Sir Edward Thornton would do; that it looked as if his mission was ended and he was unable to say whether Sir Edward would reopen negotiations or not.

The Florida Hitch.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 10.—The vote in the legislature for United States senator today was as follows: Perry 22, Pasco 14, Bloxham 23, Goodrich, republican, 12, scattering 4.

Three ballots were taken in the joint democratic caucus tonight without a decisive result. The last ballot stood: Perry 34, Pasco 16, Bloxham 36.

SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION.

The Temperance Report Adopted—Appointment of Mission Boards.

LOUISVILLE, May 10.—The last day's session of the southern Baptist convention opened with a small attendance, though the church filled up later in the day. General Green Clay Smith's report of the previous day from the temperance committee was adoped, after some sharp debate upon the clause, "Liquor as a beverage," A number of delegates held that intoxicating liquors should not be allowed even as a medicine.

Dr J. D. Renfro, of Alabama, read the report of the committee on systematic benevolence. It urged that the chief purpose was to secure the blessing of regular and cheerful giving for every member of the Baptist church in the south. It recommended complete co-operation between the convention and state conventions and general associations. It recommended that state organizations use every effort to secure the pledged amount by contributions from every member, weekly or monthly; that state boards be appointed and church meetings for mission and benevolent work be appointed for every fifth Saturday and Sunday in the even months of the year; that pastors be given as much freedom for the work of promoting systematic benevolence as possible, and appropriate committees of this convention be instructed to devote themselves to this work.

After a long discussion the report was adopted.

The report of the committee on the co-operation of the home mission board with the state mission board was read by Rev. N. A. Bailey, of Florida. It stated that under the present form of constitution, states co-operating directly with the general boards do not receive a fair representation in the convention; therefore it recommended an amendment to the constitution of the convention, giving in addition to the present representation to each state in the convention one delegate for each $50 spent for missions within its own bounds.

Rev. J. B. Eagle, of Arkansas, made a minority report, retaining present basis of representation.

The minority report was adopted.

G. H. Strickland, from the committee on nomination, submitted the following report, which was adopted:

Foreign Missionary Board, Richmond, Va.—H. H. Harris, Virginia, president; vice-presidents—Joshua Levering, Maryland; George Witefield, Mississippi; J. F. Green, Missouri; B. H. Carroll, Texas; W. L. Kirkpatrick, Georgia; C. Manly, South Carolina; J. J. D. Penrose Alabama; J. B. Searcy, Arkansas; J. U. Senter, Tennessee; N. A. Bailey, Florida; W. F. Atkinson, West Virginia; C. W. Leombies, Louisiana; Theo Whitfield, North Carolinr; G. F. Bagby, Kentucky; J. L. Burroughs, Virginia; H. A. Tupper, corresponding secretary; J. C. Williams, treasurer; A. B. Clarke, recording secretary; H. C. Burnett, auditor. Managers—W. W. Landron, John Pallon, H. N. Ellison, R. H. Pitt, W. W. Hatcher, W. J. Sherman, William Ellison, J. B. Winslow, I. B. Hudson, S. C. Clopton, W. D. Thomas, George Cooper, C. H. Ryland, T. P. Matthews.

Home mission board—John D. Stewart, Georgia, president; vice presidents, W. N. Claudoin, Florida; W. R. S. Smith, Virginia; M. D. Early, Arkansas; A. G. McManoway, North Carolina; H. F. Sprules, Mississippi; J. J. Saylor, Kentucky; A. J. Rowland, Maryland; F. M. Law, Texas; Henry McDonald, Georgia; R. F. Riley, Alabama; W. F. Penick, Louisiana; H. W. Sanders, South Carolina; O. L Hailey, Tennessee; C. W. Hyde, Missouri; A. L. Tichnor, corresponding secretary; A. C. Adair, treasurer; A. C. Briscoe, recording secretary; P. F. Abbott, auditor. Managers—J. B. Hawthorne, F. N. Daniel, George Hillyer, V. C. Norcross, William Cranshaw, J. D. Turner, M. C. Kiser, J. A. Anderson, J. R. Pendleton, H. L. Stratton, D. G. Day, J. G. Gibson, A. D. Freeman, E. N. Warren and C. A. Davis, Jr.

At a meeting of the alumni of the Baptist Theological seminary, Dr. Moyes stated that the seminary had been placed where it is, by its removal to Louisville. There have been about eight hundred students at the institution, he said. A new and plainer building is approaching completion. It will cost $74,000, another and grander edifice will be erected on Broadway. I would like to have this money given or raised by the old students. A gentleman of New York offers $25,000, if we raise $75,000 additional, one half of which must go to endow a professorship.

During the meeting $1,100 was subscribed by students as a nuclus of the fund which it is proposed to raise. The seminary now has $230,000 invested funds. $100,000 in real estate in addition to a lot on Broadway and a large amount of invested funds.

At 5 p.m. the convention adjourned to meet the second Wednesday in May, 1888, at Richmond, Virginia.

FISSURES IN THE EARTH.

Result of the Earthquake in Arizona and New Mexico.

TUCSON, Ari., May 10.—R. J. Kerr has returned from a trip to Tresalamo, in Santa Pedro valley. He reports the earthquake fissure to be not less than twenty-five miles long. It extended but a short distance below Benson to fifteen miles below Tresalamo. At the surface the fissure varies in width from six to eighteen inches. On one side the earth has sunk several inches and at places along the crack, water burst forth but afterward ceased flowing. The crack in many places is still open to the depth of several feet.

From Empire ranch, seventy miles south of here, a fissue is also reported. Reliable information states that when the earth opened, water and mud were thrown to a great height. One spring in that vicinity went dry and two others doubled their volume of water, but on cessation of the disturbance the dry spring commenced flowing, and in the other two the water diminished to its former state.

EARTHQUAKES IN MEXICO.

Large Bodies of Rocks Fall From the Mountains.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—A special from Guaymas, Mexico, dated yesterday, says: Shocks continue at Ares, many buildings have been cracked and rendered unsafe. Nobody has been hurt, but the inhabitants are leaving as fast as possible. A large slice of a mountain fell down with a terrible crash. The friction of the rocks ignited the woods and caused the belief that a volcano had broken out. At the Delicias, Sante Elena mine, the earthquake caused a great panic. The whole hill fell down, scattering rocks among 150 persons, but fortunately nobody was hurt. Districts beyond telegraphic communication have not yet been heard from. The authorities are awaiting the arrival of couriers.

THE MISSING BONDS.

A Coupon Locates Stolen County Bonds in a Broker's Hands.

GALVESTON, May 10.—Last November County Treasurer W. J. Burk left for parts unknown, and an examination of his books showed him a defaulter to the extent of several thousand dollars. As treasurer he was custodian of $16,000 worth of county bonds belonging to the school fund. These bonds were non-negotiable, but they could not be found among the effects of the missing treasurer. The county commissioners duly advertised the same, but no clew was obtained until today, when the First National bank received from New York for collection the May coupons of the missing bonds, which were forwarded by Marcus S. Trast. Payment on the coupons has been refused, and the officials have opened correspondence with Trast with a view to locating and recovering the bonds.

Monument to Confederate Dead.

RALEIGH, May 10.—The monument to the confederate dead of the battle of Bentonville was unveiled today at Smithfield, Johnston county. Hon. A. M. Waddell, of Washington, delivered an address. Many distinguished men were present, among them Hon. William R. Cox, State Commissioner of Agriculture Robinson and others. Three thousand people witnessed the ceremony.

CRANKY CHAMBERLAIN

SOURING UNDER THE SHADOW WHICH RESTS UPON HIM.

The Government to Apply the Cloture So as to Force the Bill Through—Wild Bill the Center of Attraction at the American Exhibition—Talk in France and Germany.

LONDON, May 10.—[Special.]—The Pall Mall Gazette of tonight will utterly demolish any remnant of credence which may have remained as to the authenticity of the so-called Parnell letter published in the Times. The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a series of admirable forgeries purporting to be letters signed by Dillon, Healy, O'Brien and other Irish patriots, expressing sympathy with the Phœnix park murders, and apologizing to Carey for having been forced to denounce them in parliament. The Pall Mall Gazette concludes by stating, in the words of the Times, that they have many more of such letters in reserve, and that they are, in fact, prepared to supply them to purchasers at so much a letter. Of course, henceforth it will be impossible to treat the Times forgery seriously.

It is reported that the government will ask the house to adopt a resolution whereby all the remaining amendments, however material any of them may be to the main questions of the bill or to the interests of the Irish members, shall be put to a vote without any discussion whatever. Thus going even a step farther than the application of the cloture when they deem occasion demands it. With this object in view, they have warned their supporters that their attendance in division in the lobbies may be called for at any moment. While the conservatives are thus trying to push the bill through as rapidly as possible, before they lose their hold of the majority in the commons, the division in the unionist-liberal camp is becoming defined and promises a split which may seriously interfere with the ministerial programme. Mr. Chamberlain is again growing uneasy at the insignificance of his own personality in these maneuvers of the great parties under capable leaders, and has laid it down as an essential condition of continued unionist support of Lord Salisbury that there must be two representative bodies in Ireland, when it comes to the question of giving the Irish some sort of parliament. Some of the unionists, however, are in favor of only one legislative body, on the ground that if the north is separated from the south, the Protestant minority in the latter will have no one to protect them from the Romish majority.

IN FRANCE AND GERMANY.

Much interest is aroused both in Germany and France by the trial of Schnaebeles, which is now in progress before the supreme court of the German empire at Leipsig. The German government seized on the persons of Schnaebels and of other prisoners documents which directly implicate Colonel Vincent, one of the chief members of General Boulanger's headquarter staff, and M. Picard, vice-president of the French council of state. The object of the trial is evidently to enable the Germans to demand satisfaction from the French government and guarantees against any further intrigues in Alsace-Lorraine.

SAVED BY WILD BILL.

It is unpleasant to have to state that the American exhibition in London, which was opened yesterday, is only saved from downright failure and ridicule by Buffalo Bill's wild west show, which was originally intended as a mere annex of the exposition. It looks, however, as if the tail would not only wag the dog, but even enable the animal to float through the London season. The English people have never seen anything like the Wild West before, and are beginning to believe that the scenes represented in the show represent ordinary every day life in the New Jersey meadows.

THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD is about to celebrate the queen's jubilee by sanctioning a more liberal diet for the inmates of the workhouses during the period of rejoicing. On June 21st the new coinage will be issued. The queen is represented on it with a crown on her head, but although the features suit her present age, the effigy gives an idea of a taller woman than her majesty. One hundred thousand two-pound gold pieces will be struck in this style. There will also be a four shilling silver piece.

IMPATIENT CONSERVATIVES.

They Resolve to Make a Wholesale Use of the Cloture.

LONDON, May 10.—The house of commons sat until half past five o'clock this morning.

On a motion being put during the night by DeLisle, conservative and unionist for an adjournment, Mr. Bradlaugh said he desired a division on the motion simply to show who were opposed to his motion for a second reading of the oaths bill.

Mr. DeLisle's motion was rejected by a vote of 185 to 104.

After several other ineffectal attempts to adjourn, Mr. Bradlaugh said he was satisfied that a large majority of those present were against adjourning and agreed to withdraw his motion.

The house then adjourned.

In the house of commons today, in committee on the coercion bill, Mr. Healy moved an amendment that a person committed for contempt of court be treated as a first-class misdemeanant. He argued that witnesses committed for refusing to answer questions ought not to be subjected to the same punishment as criminals. When the last coercion act was in effect, he said the mere detention of many persons shortened their lives ten years. [Cries of hear, hear!.]

Mr. Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland, said that persons committed could avoid punishment by answering questions. There was no difference between cases under the clause and cases of contempt under the ordinary law.

John O'Connor, nationalist, said that if the government imprisoned witnesses as common criminals for refusing to answer questions, it would be a disgrace to civilization. Why didn't they propose to apply the old fashioned implements of torture, including the thumb screw and rack?

Sir Charles Russell, liberal, contended that there was a great difference between witnesses examined under the ordinary protection of legal advice in the regular court and those who, under the clause, could be compelled to attend a private examination and answer whatever questions were put to them. [Hear! Hear!]

Mr. Balfour replied that the law under the explosives act gave the same power.

Mr. Gladstone denied that these were parallel cases under the crimes clause. Witnesses could be summoned to state whether some one had induced somebody else to take or refuse to take a particular farmer to a dealer, or refuse to deal with a particular tradesman. [Cheers.]

Mr. Healy put it to the government whether it would agree that men committed under the clause should not be kept in solitary confinement more than twenty hours out of twenty-four.

Mr. Balfour promised that the government would inquire into the mode in which the law was administered and prevent harsh treatment of persons committed under its provisions.

Mr. Healy's amendment was rejected by a vote of 195 to 144.

Mr. Healy then moved to limit the penalty for contempt in case of witnesses to seven day's imprisonment.

Mr. Healy's amendment limiting the penalty for contempt was defeated by a vote of 138 to 111. Another motion, referring to witnesses, was negatived, and the house then adjourned.

The Congregational ministers of London, at a meeting held today, adopted, almost unanimously, a resolution offered by Dr. Parker, of the city temple, protesting against the Irish coercion bill now before parliament, demanding that the Irish people shall be treated with justice, and urging the government to adopt a policy of reconciliation in dealing with the Irish question.

The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a rumor that the government have ordered to be prepared sixty first-class cells in Millbank prison for the accommodation of Parnellite members of parliament whose arrest they may deem necessary. The report is discredited.

An informal meeting of the cabinet was held today, to discuss plans for expediting the passage of the coercion bill. It was decided to abandon the attempt to effect a wholesale application of the cloture rule at a fixed date. The refusal of the chairman of a committee to put the cloture until each clause has been fully discussed, has compelled the ministers to adopt a plan of asking for the cloture after bona fide amendments have been made. The ministerialists now calculate that discussion on the coercion bill, in committee, will last three weeks longer.

EXPERIMENTS WITH MELINITE.

The New Explosive—Suit Against a French Newspaper, Etc.

PARIS, May 10.—In relation to a dispatch from Berlin, stating that experiments showed that melinite decomposes, if kept long, and is therefore of no use for war purposes, the government asserts that the substance experimented with in Berlin was not melinite and base their assertion on the fact that melinite is unknown in Germany.

M. Lamoureaux, manager of the Eden theater in which "Lohengrin" was produced recently, but which was withdrawn owing to the opposition, by a portion of the people, to German works, has entered suit against the newspaper LaFrance to recover 50,000 francs damages for an attack made upon the opera.

In the chamber of deputies today, General Boulanger, minister of war, submitted his bill for an experimental mobilization of the army in October. The chamber, however, decided that the sugar tax bill must precede the military bill.

NEWS FROM MEXICO.

Sympathy of the American Colony For the Prisoners.

CITY OF MEXICO, via Galveston, May 10.—The sentence of death which has been pronounced on Colonel Arives, Lieutenant Gutierrez and Sergeant Valenzuela, of the Mexican army, for having violated army regulations by crossing the border at Nogales, illegally, is said to be a result of the opinion of the government that a severe example must be made to prevent in the future a similar dangerous occurrence, which might bring about international difficulties. Among some of American residents here it is felt that while the sentence may be legally just, yet commutation of sentence might be gratefully asked of the Mexican government by the United States. It was expected here that the sentence would be executed today, but no news to that effect has reached here from the frontier.

The government meteorological bureau reports that the recent earthquake shock traversed Mexico through Sierra Madrea mountains which cross the country from northwest to the southeast.

The American legation has been removed to a spacious and handsome building where Minister Manning also has his residence.

A Congress of Catholics.

LONDON, May 10.—A congress of English-speaking Roman Catholics will meet in London shortly to discuss religious progress, labor and capital, temperance, theft and other subjects. It is expected that American prelates will attend. Cardinal Manning is a leading spirit in the movement.

The League's Expenses.

DUBLIN, May 10.—At a fortnightly meeting of the National league today, the treasurer's report showed that expenses since the previous meeting had exceeded the receipts by $660.

The Queen and Buffalo Bill.

LONDON, May 10.—The queen has commanded that a private performance be given by the Wild West show, at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

PREPARING FOR THE FIGHT.

The Building Trades of Chicago Fixing for a Strike.

CHICAGO, May 10.—A committee of the Amalgamated Trades association had a protracted conference with the executive board of master masons today, but no settlement of the existing difficulties was reached. Tonight the master masons will deliberate on the situation and take such action as may be necessary. The trades' council will likewise call a meeting for tomorrow night and discuss the action of the bosses. A majority of the builders say that nothing can avert a strike unless the laborers become more rational. They gloomily predict a partial or total cessation of building operations, but are disposed to vigorously force matters to the point where they shall culminate in something tangible.

A ROW IN CAMP.

Knights of Labor Issue a Circular Against Mr. Powderly.

CHICAGO, May 10—The Daily News publishes the text of a long circular said to have been sent out to all prominent Knights of Labor and secretaries of assemblies in California, Oregon, Colorado, Nebraska, Illinois, Michigan and Missouri, by local assembly 8,133 of Portland, Oregon. The circular denounces General Master Workman Powderly for his rejoicing over the result of the Chicago municipal election, and embodies resolutions passed by the assembly demanding that Mr. Powderly be deposed from office. The Daily News says that the knights are on the eve of a great revolt, and the circular is a result of a concerted move, by which, if the assembly is suspended a general withdrawal from the order will follow.

TO BREAK THE LEASE.

A Scheme Said to be Under Way in Chattanooga.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 10.—[Special.] A sensation was created in railroad circles today when the rumor broke out that there was an effort being made by some of the stockholders of the Memphis and Charleston railroad, which is under lease to the East Tennessee system, to break the lease. The latter system was last week consolidated with the Richmond and Danville system, and the Memphis and Charleston stockholders claim that the new alliance will work injury to that line. Just what stock is being taken is not known.

Appointment of Bank Examiner.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The comptroller of the currency has appointed Samuel McD. Tate, of Morganton, N. C., to be examiner of national banks in the states of North Carolina and Virginia. Mr. Tate is about fifty-five years of age, and has had large experience. He was at one time associated with the management of the Memphis and Charleston railroad company, and has served several terms as a member of the general assembly of North Carolina. He was chairman of the finance committee of the late house of representatives, and is said to have special qualifications for the position to which he has just been appointed.

President Davis to Attend.

MERIDIAN, Miss. May 10.—Jefferson Davis has consented to attend the meeting of the Mississippi Press association, to be held here on the 12th inst.

THE GROWING CROPS.

Report of the Department of Agriculture—Condition of Grain.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The report of the department of agriculture for May, relates to the condition of winter grain, the progress of spring plowing, and the portion of the proposed cotton area already planted. It indicates a decline in the condition of wheat of two points, since April 1, the general average for the whole country being 86 against 95, at the same date in 1886, 70 in 1885, and 94 in 1884. The changes in condition have not been uniform throughout the winter wheat region, some states showing an increase, a majority a slight decline and a few a heavy falling off.

The states of the middle Atlantic coast, from Pennsylvania to North Carolina, show some improvement, seasonable weather having aided the plant in recovering more than was expected from the injury done by the trying season during February and March. In New York and New Jersey the amount of winter killing was not fully known on April 1st, and this, with the cold, unfavorable weather during the month has caused a serious reduction of condition. The drougth has reduced the average somewhat in the eastern gulf states and has wrought very serious damage in Texas and Arkansas, lowering the condition during the month nine and ten points respectively.

Favorable temperature and seasonable rains have improved the prospect in Tennessee, West Virginia and Kentucky, the condition being considerably higher in these states than it has averaged in May for the past five years. The most serious reduction of the month is in Ohio, where there is a falling off of eight points since the first of April, due to the continuing evil effects of the alternate freezing and thawing noted in last report, and to the cold, dry weather during a greater part of April, which gave the injured plant little chance for recuperation. A favorable season after April 1 might have, in great measure, repaired the injury done up to that time, but continued unfavorable conditions have wrought still further dramage, and a small crop is now inevitable. Michigan and Indiana show a slight decline, while in Illinois and Missouri there is a gain of one point. Unfavorable weather in Kansas and California has caused a slight falling off, while in Oregon the prospect has advanced, it being the only state in which the condition reaches 100.

The averages of condition by states are: New York, 86; Pennsylvania, 72; Maryland, 84; Virginia, 80; North Carolina, 90; Texas, 60; Arkansas, 93; Tennessee, 96; West Virginia, 89; Kentucky, 95; Ohio, 71; Michigan, 90; Indiana, 87; Illinois, 93; Missouri, 96; Kansas, 81; California, 89; Oregon, 101.

Rye has suffered from the same conditions which have injuriously affected wheat, but on account of its harder nature the general average is considerably higher, standing at 90 8 against 92 0 on April 1st, and 95 7 at the same date in 1886. The condition of barley is low, the average being 87.8 against 96 7 in May, 1886, and 82 in 1885. The season has been more generally advanced in all parts of the country than usual, spring plowing being seriously behind only on the Atlantic coast south to Pennsylvania, and on the Pacific slope. In these sections it has been delayed by cold and excess of moisture. Elsewhere work is ahead of the average year, the season, especially during April, having been generally favorable with a temperature above normal and the rain fall at the minimum. The proportion already done on May 1st, is estimated at 80 per cent. of the whole, while the amount usually completed at that date is about 76 per cent. The proportion of cotton already planted amounts to more than four-fifths of the proposed area and is slightly greater than at the same date in any of the preceding five years but is little less than the proportion returned by the correspondents, as average planting at that date. The proportions by states are: North Carolina 70, South Carolina 80, Georgia 84, Florida 96, Alabama 88, Mississippi 84, Louisiana 83, Texas 82, Arkansas 80, Tennessee 80. There is some complaint of slow germination and a poor stand on account of the drouth at the time of planting in the same sections, but with favorable weather replanting is rapidly filling all the gaps.

ALABAMA VALUES.

The Result of the Deliberations of the Board of Assessors.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10.—[Special.]—The report of the board of assessment and equalization of railroad and telegraph property was completed on Saturday and brief outline wired you. The report is interesting and shows a general enhancement in the valuation. This increase will enable the state to derive a very neat revenue. In several instances the assessment of last year is unchanged, and in only one instance is there a reduction, that being in the case of the Cincinnati, Selma and Mobile road, which is assessed at $6,000 per mile against $8,000 per mile last year.

The Birmingham Mineral shows the largest increase of assessment, last year it was $5,000 per mile, and by this report is raised to $10,000, an increase of one hundred per cent. The Alabama Great Southern has been increased from $11,000 to $14,000 per mile; the Memphis and Charleston from $12,000 to $15,000 per mile; the Selma, Rome ad Dalton from $10,000 to $13 000; Georgia Pacific from $10,000 to $14 000; the Mobile and Girard, East and West, Eufaula and Clayton, Mobile and Ohio, New Orleans and Mobile and the Tuskee roads have had their assessments increased $1,000 per mile each. The East Alabama, Mobile and Montgomery, Montgomery and Eufaula, Nashville and Decatur, South and North, Southwestern and Western of Alabama, have each been raised $2,000, and the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, from $12,000 to $15,000 per mile. The total assessment last year was $23 688,431.01, and this year the sum is very largely increased.

Seize the Opportunity Ere it is Too Late.

When we consider the uncertainty of every event of life, let us remember that the 203d Grand Monthly Drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery took place at New Orleans, on Tuesday (always on Tuesday), April 12th, 1887, under the sole supervision of Generals G. T. Beauregard, of Louisiana, and Jubal Early, of Virginia, when $522,500 was sent flying around the world where it would probably do the most good. Thusly: No. 67,060 drew the First Capital Prize of $150,000, which was sold in fractional parts of tenths at $1 each, sent to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, Louisiana; one was held by Geo. P. Stackhouse, for himself and fifteen painters in the establishment of Goddell & Waters, Philadelphia, Pa.; one by Ambrose Gilliland, of Moweaqua, Ill., collected through the Decatur National Bank, Decatur, Ill.; one by Mrs. M. R. Newberry, Chebogan, Mich.; one was paid through the London, Paris and American Bank, limited; on through the Anglo-California Bank, limited; two through Wells, Fargo & Co.; all the latter of San Francisco, Cal., the others elsewhere, the publication of whose names is objected to; No 23,899 drew the Second Prize of $50,000, also sold in tenths at $1 each; one to J. M. Stotts, Dee, Ark.; one to Roy J. Bour, Canton, O.; one to W. C. Hammock, Griffin, Ga.; one to C. W. Tweedy, Augusta, Ga.; one to A. L. Robb, Atchison, Kansas; the others went elsewhere. No. 67,901 drew the Third of $20,000, also sold in tenths at $1 each; one to H. T. Davis and B. S. Webber, Portland Me.; one to P. H. Dwyer, Boston, Mass., one to G. Ragin, Clarksville, Texas; the rest elsewhere. Nos. 22,735 and 50,830 drew each one of the Fourth Prizes of $10,000, and were scattered hither and yon, everywhere over the world, and now it soon will be the 205th monthly and Grand Extraordinary drawing on Tuesday, June 14th, 1887, when $1,055,000 will be scattered in sums from $300,000 down to $100. Whole tickets are $20, and fractional parts from halves at $10. to twentieths at $1. Any information can be had of M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, Louisiana. It is well to seize the opportunity ere it is too late.

LEGAL LOG IN ALABAMA.

Work in the United States Courts Chronicled.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10.—[Special.]—The record of last week's session of the United States courts in this city, deserves more than passing notice. It developed a state of affairs which calls for vigorous action. Arrests of people are made for violation of the internal revenue laws on the most frivolous pretexts, and the unhappy individuals are forced to leave their homes at an inconvenient season, come many miles to court, at their own expense, and after days and nights of anxious waitings is informed that the government has no case against them and they can return home. There were two hundred cases cleared from the docket last week. Of these convictions were obtained only in twenty-six; in thirty-seven pleas of guilty were entered, thirty-eight were tried and resulted in the defendants being acquitted and the remainder were nolle prossed. The defendants in most cases are farmers, and they very justly complain at this unnecessary and oppressive course. Something should be done for their relief.

Closing the Drug-Stores.

OPELIKA, Ala., May 10.—[Special.]—The closing of drug stores on Sundays has again come up. The Rev. M. Bancroft, of the First Methodist church, is moving in the matter with a petition. The question was first presented to the druggists, and they couldn't agree on the hours, so the petition, as we are informed by one of the city commissioners, will be placed before that body at their next meeting. One of the commissioners told your correspondent today, that they would not consider the petition at all, because in the first place, it was a matter which addressed itself to the wishes and views of the druggists, and the second place, the statutory laws allowed them to keep open on Sunday, and even if they so wished, the city couldn't pass any law in direct conflict with the state law concerning the case.

THE SHERIFF ON HAND

To Protect the "Scabs" Against the Knights of Labor.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 10.—[Special.]—In January last, three hundred miners at Corona and Daisy Gap, Smith's and Patton's mines, in Walker county, struck for an advance of ten cents per ton on wages, which was refused and the mines have since been closed. A few days ago about one hundred and fifty of the men offered to go to work at the old price, and the mine owners, after securing one hundred new men, agreed to put them all to work. The men who refused to go back declared that the scabs should not work, and made threats against them in public. The sheriff of that county, with twenty-five deputies, is now at the mines, and the men will go to work tomorrow. The mine owners guarantee them protection. The strikers are still determined and threatening, and serious trouble is feared. The strikers are Knights of Labor, and have been supported by that order since they quit work.

Purify Your Blood

Good health depends upon pure blood; therefore, to keep well, purify the blood by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine is peculiarly designed to act upon the blood, and through that upon all the organs and tissues of the body. It has a specific action, also, upon the secretions and excretions and assists nature to expel from the system all humors, impure particles, and effete matter through the lungs, liver, bowels, kidneys and skin. It effectually aids weak, impaired and debilitated organs, invigorates the nervous system, tones the digestion, and imparts new life and energy to all the functions of the body. A peculiarity of is that it strengthens and builds up the system while it eradicates disease.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt as if I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious."—MRS. M. V. BAYARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

N. B.—If you have made up your mind to get Hood's Sarsaparilla do not take any other.

Now is the time to purify the blood, for at no other season is the body so susceptible to benefit from medicine. The peculiar purifying and reviving qualities of Hood's Sarsaparilla are just what are needed to expel diseases and fortify the system against the debilitating effects of mild weather. Every year increases the popularity of Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it is just what people need at this season. It is the ideal spring medicine. If you have never tried it, do so, and you will be convinced of its peculiar merit.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has driven the poison from my blood, and though 76, I feel active and strong as at 50."—W. H. GROESBECK, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Spring Medicine

"I take Hood's Sarsaparilla for a spring medicine, and I find it just the thing. It tones up my system and makes me feel like a different man. My wife takes it for dyspepsia, and she derives great benefit from it."—FRANK C. TURNER, Hook & Ladder No. 1, Friend Street, Boston.

"I had salt rheum on my left arm three years, suffering terribly; it almost disabled me from work. I took three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and the salt rheum has entirely disappeared."—H. M. MILLS, 71 French Street, Lowell, Mass.

ABSOLUTE PERFECTION IN BAKING!
—AND ALL—
MEATS ROASTED IN THEIR OWN JUICES, BY USING THE WIRE GAUZE OVEN DOOR
FOUND EXCLUSIVELY ON THE

MARVELOUS RESULTS

LOSS IN SHRINKAGE OF MEATS.

Very few people know that the Shrinkage of Meats roasted in a close oven is from thirty-five to forty per cent. All meat contains seventy-five per cent. of water and only twenty-five per cent. of solid matter, and the loss that is made in the roasting is made in the evaporation of the juice, which is the VITAL PART OF MEAT.

Effect of the SOLID OVEN Door.

A TEN pound Sirloin, medium or well-done, will be REDUCED to SIX pounds and four ounces of Roasted meat, showing a loss of three pounds and twelve ounces of juice. While the loss is 37½ per cent. of the total weight, it shows the enormous LOSS OF FIFTY PER CENT. OF THE JUICE.

Effect of WIRE GAUZE OVEN Door.

A TEN pound Sirloin, medium or well-done, will be reduced to nine pounds and eight ounces of Roasted meat, showing a loss of eight ounces of juice. While this loss is five per cent. of the total weight, it shows the very small LOSS OF BUT SEVEN PER CENT. OF JUICE.

FORTY SHOTS FIRED.

A MACON NEGRO FALLS INTO TROUBLE IN MILLEDGEVILLE.

Aleck Day, a Macon Hackman, Attempts to Take Charge of the Sidewalk – His Claim Disputed by a White Man Midnight Vigilantes Run Day Out of Town.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—About forty pistol shots in rapid succession, and yells of "Murder!—murder!" threw North Wayne street in such wild excitement, at near midnight last night, as only finds a parallel in the earthquake terror last year. Alex Day, an impudent Macon negro, was the target, while those who did the shooting are unknown people. The supposed cause of the whole matter is about this:

THE CAUSE DESCRIBED.

Mr. Madison Sutherland, in company with two ladies, were out walking Sunday evening, and were met by Day, who tried to walk between Sutherland and one of the ladies. Sutherland stopped and asked the negro to go around them. "I won't do it," said the negro, who kept walking and ran against one of the ladies. Sutherland picked up a brickbat and would have resented the insult then, if the ladies had not begged him not to. Later in the evening the matter was reported to the police, and protection from such impudence and gross insults from negroes asked. But the laxity by which some of our officials gain negro votes was again exhibited and the negro was allowed to go unmolested. Yesterday morning the negro was in the postoffice when Sutherland came up town. He is a very large and mean-looking negro, so Sutherland secured a big stick, and going to the negro, asked him what he meant by insulting him on Sunday evening. "I meant just what I did," and shaking his finger in Sutherland's face, continued: "If you take me for a coward, you will be surprised. By God! I am here."

KNOCKING THE NEGRO DOWN.

Here the conversation was broken up by Sutherland knocking the negro down and giving him a first class beating. Sutherland was then summoned to appear before the mayor today. All day yesterday the fight was the topic of conversation, and the sentiment of both white and black was that Sutherland had done exactly right. The more impudent class of negroes were on Day's side of the question, however, and it is said the enthusiasm with which some of them discussed the situation bordered on to incendiarism. Suppressed rumors leaked out early last night that he (Alex Day) was going to settle with Sutherland. At 10 o'clock last night, one could have seen at a glance that there was something going wrong in this city, but where there was something to create suspicion something else would wipe it away. Crowds were seen all along the streets, and at 9 o'clock last night Milledgeville's streets were filled with pedestrians.

THE SHOTS FIRED.

There was a prize drill at the college, however, so it was thought that that was causing the crowds. Just after the drill was over the crowds were seen going in every direction. About the time the people over the city had gone to bed the firing commenced, and the racket raised by the pistols was about like several packs of fire crackers being discharged at once. Whether the negro was killed or not cannot be told. When last seen he was running for dear life out near the Georgia depot, with a large crowd behind him and the air around filled with lead. He intended to sleep with a negro named Lumpkin at the old factory lot, and it was here that the crowd started after him. The negroes in that settlement say the men who did the firing were not masked. The scene at that place after the shooting was over is indiscribable. Negroes were frightened nearly to death, and the wailing and groaning of the ignorant people was pathetically amusing. If the law in the past had have been regarded as it should have been, there would have been nothing of the excitement, but the truth of the matter is, that from some cause, whether from the fear of losing votes or not is unknown, the law in many instances is not carried out. Ladies have been insulted before, and nothing was said. And unless they are protected from insults by mayor and marshals, such proceedings as that of last night will be the inevitable result.

The negro who was run out of town last night by the indignant crowd has been heard from. He is now in Macon. A negro who was dealing out incendiary talk this morning was beat considerably over the head with a scantling by a young white man. It is reported that two other negroes, who claimed to be in favor of war against the whites, were sent bucket letters, asking them to leave the city at once. Quiet is being restored, and no further trouble is apprehended.

DIED ON THE WAY.

Put Off the Train Because He Did Not Have Money Enough to Pay His Way.

PALMETTO, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—A negro, called Cager Smith, boarded the down passenger train in Atlanta yesterday, to visit his mother, who lives near here. It is said he was sick when he left Atlanta, and that the railroad officials put him off the train at Fairburn because he did not have money enough to come on to Palmetto.

Parties in Fairburn made up money and bought him a ticket to this place and put him on the accommodation train that gets here at six o'clock, and while they were lifting him off the train, or just before, the negro died. Mayor Johnston notified his relatives and also telegraphed Coroner J. B. Mobley, who came down this morning and held an inquest, the jury deciding that he came to his death from natural causes, unknown to them. His family was in Douglasville the last heard of them here.

THE ACT OF AN INCENDIARY.

Seven Mules Burned to Death in Marshallville.

MARSHALLVILLE, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—Mr. S. H. Rumph, who has quite a reputation as a nurseryman and fruit-grower, had destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon his stable and contents and seven fine mules. Loss about $1,500. The villainous work was certainly the act of an incendiary and it is a mystery to Mr. Rumph as to who could be the perpetrator. About a year ago a similar attempt was made to burn him out, but he was fortunate enough to save his mules. Mr. Rumph has employed a white man, Mr. Hartman, who takes charge of affairs in his absence. He has also quite an intelligent negro in his employ who is a rival or jealous of Mr. Hartman. So there is but a slight suspicion that it is this negro who wishes Mr. Rumph to discharge Mr. Hartman. A large reward will be offered, and if the perpetrator could be caught, roasting alive would be too mild a punishment.

End of a Murder Trial.

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—The Leopard murder case occupied the court all today. After exhaustive argument by H. Clay Foster for defendant and Boykin Wright for state the case was given to the jury at 6:30 o'clock, who, after remaining out an hour and a half, returned a verdict of not guilty. The verdict was a great surprise, every one thinking they would at least bring in a verdict of manslaughter. Mr. H. Clay Foster made a brilliant speech in defense and has added much to his already well known reputation as a great criminal lawyer by his work in this case.

Death in Lexington.

LEXINGTON, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—Mr. Pat Pace, of Crawford, this county, passed away on Monday last, after a long illness. He was buried yesterday evening at 3 p m. Mr. Pace was one of our most sterling and popular citizens, and was for a long time our efficient county treasurer. The county at large and the community sustains a great loss in his death. He worthily bore the name of an honorable gentleman.

THE ATHENS ROW.

The Better Class of Students Disowning Participation.

ATHENS, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—Many students have expressed condemnatory sentiments in regard to the late outbreak, and it is reported that the principal and teachers of the Lucy Cobb institute have been assured by many of the young men that they were not engaged in the disturbance and did not approve it. Several of the professors yesterday, before beginning recitations, referred to the matter and gravely denounced it and plainly told the young men that they were greatly injuring themselves and the university by such improper manifestations. The students have had several meetings in regard to the affair, and resolutions condemning the whole affair and denying certain allegations were drawn up and passed. These resolutions are in a general way expressive of sorrow that anything of the kind should have happened and assure all the parties who suffered by their conduct that everything was intended in fun.

The students deny having thrown stones over in the institute yard. They admit having thrown rocks at the police. They deny also having used improper language near the institute. In regard to defacing the property belonging to the institute, a prominent sophomore told THE CONSTITUTION today that the great mass of the students were not to blame for this; that this work was due to five or six students who, by their persistent bad conduct, made the others bear unjustly what they entirely deserved and were alone responsible for. He said they are well-known students, but have no conception of what is gentlemanly and proper. It would surprise some people to know who they really are. This institute is carefully watched every night now, and it is not likely that the shrubbery or statuary will again be defaced. The sentiment of the better class of the boys is against vandalism, and if the few referred to do not hold up in their disgraceful work their own fellows will take them in charge. A student remarked today that the cause of enmity between students and police was due to the unwarrantable arrest of one of their number. They were willing to be responsible for their deeds when the affair was legal and proper, but that the policeman without authority or justice endeavored to arrest a student hence the row.

The whole trouble has simmered down, and everything is quiet, the special police officer at the institute still remaining on guard.

AS TOLD BY THE STUDENTS.

The students of the university in the interest of truth and justice, desire to submit their version of the so-called riot of last Saturday night, as follows:

The students on last Saturday night left the Salvation Army hall and marched orderly to the campus, singing some of the army songs. No sticks were thrown at the police, and if any rocks the action was not countenanced. They did enter the armory, take out the guns and marched quietly up to Cobbham. They made no loud or boisterous noise, neither did they frighten any one. They had no desire to do so. They marched quietly to the Lucy Cobb institute, gave three cheers for the occupants, after which they returned by the home institution giving three cheers for that school also. They then marched quietly back to the campus and put their guns in the armory. No disorder was created off the campus, and very little was to be heard there. The affair was not caused by the action of the grand jury. The subjoined letter from the principal of the Lucy Cobb Institute, is a conclusive answer to your Athens correspondent, who so grossly misrepresented the true facts of the case:

"Lucy Cobb Institute; Mr. Twitty, Dear Sir: You ask me to correct the misrepresentations as they appear in today's CONSTITUTION, in regard to the conduct of the students at the Institute, on Saturday night. This I shall be glad to do. The students filed before the Institute gate, ordered arms, stacked their muskets, and gave three cheers for the Lucy Cobb. I was at the window watching them, and it did not occur to me that they were disorderly, nor were we alarmed. The cheering waked up and startled the girls at first, but they soon understood the cause. I did not telephone to anyone. I saw no need for it, and did not anticipate any trouble. I thought this a piece of boyish fun and frolic. I regret that the accounts have been so exaggerated.

Yours respectfully,
M. RUTHERFORD.

May 10th, 1887.

To F. E. Twitty, J. E. Pottle, Glen Waters, L. L. Knight, J. H. Blount, J. H. Walker, C. P. Fuller, C. F. Rice, committee from students of University of Georgia.

The following is the statement made by the officer at the Lucy Cobb institute:

I made no such assertion as appeared in yesterday's CONSTITUTION, that I would shoot the first man who entered the institute yard. I quietly asked the boys not to come in, and they did not.

CRIMINALS ESCAPE IN HENRY.

Several Cases Where Justice Fails to Get Her Dues.

HAMPTON, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—The Times, speaking of the late term of court in Henry county, says:

We had a long, tedious session of court. The case of the state vs. Bellah resulted in an acquittal of Bellah. He was defended by Gartrell, Dicken & Bryan. After the evidence was given in Bellah's friends became alarmed. Colonel Bryan made one of the best speeches ever delivered in town. The courthouse was packed to hear him. His speech made a painful impression on the jury, and when he had taken his seat it was said by everyone that Bellah would go forth a free man.

The case of the State vs. Jack Kendrick was tried and resulted in a verdict of acquittal for Jack. He was charged with the killing of his wife, but the evidence was not strong enough to convict. We will always believe that Jack cheated the gallows out of its just rights.

Tom Wadkins and his son were tried for the killing of old Billy Cotton, colored. The son was found guilty of murder and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. His lawyer made a motion for a new trial, and it was granted. He then plead guilty to manslaughter, and was resentenced to the penitentiary for two and one-half years.

Tom Wadkins plead guilty to an assault, and was fined seventy dollars or three months in the chaingang. His fine was paid and he is now a free man, and old innocent Bill Cotton lies mouldering in the clay.

THE GEORGIAN DIOCESAN CONVENTION

Of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America.

ROME, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—At the Episcopal church tonight a large class was confirmed by Bishop Beckwith. A splendid sermon was preached by this able divine, in the presence of a large congregation. Tomorrow the diocesan convention of Georgia will assemble, and will continue in session for several days. A large number of delegates have already arrived, and others will reach the city tomorrow. All will be entertained by our citizens.

The Liberty County Sunday-schools.

HINESVILLE, Ga., May 10.—[Special]—The various Sunday-schools of Liberty county, together with their friends and many visitors, assembled in the beautiful hickory grove in the suburbs of the village of Hinesville, and had a grand reunion. The morning was occupied by the usual routine of marching and singing by the various schools and speeches from those appointed by the committee of arrangements. Rev. J. W. Montgomery delivered an appropriate address of welcome. The other speakers did themselves great credit in handling the themes selected for the occasion, and among other subjects touched upon, gave the children a large amount of good, wholesome advice. The young ladies were in attendance in full force, lending much to the interest of the occasion by their presence and beauty.

Death of Captain Wade.

BLAKELY, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—Captain R. W. Wade, junior member of the wealthy and well-known firm of I. M. & R. W. Wade, died on Sunday night last, after a lingering illness of several months. He had been confined to his room since the middle of December last, with a bronchial affection, and though his death was not unexpected, its announcement cast a gloom over our entire community. He leaves a wife, three bright and intelligent children and several sisters and brothers to mourn his sad departure.

THE BIG DRILL.

THE PROGRAMME FOR THE FIRST DAY.

A Banquet to the Chatham Artillery—The Arrivals—Drill Points—Bibb County Farms—Mrs. Besare Wins—Other News Notes and Paragraphs of Interest.

MACON, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—All day long the big drill has been the subject of comment in this city. Arrangements are being made for the reception and taking care of the guests of our boys on a grand scale.

The Floyd Rifles will keep open house during the two days of the drill, as will the Volunteers, who will entertain as special guests the Chatham Artillery, to whom they will give a banquet tomorrow night.

The various armories are being appropriately decorated and put in trim for the festivities. Committees have been appointed to take care of the boys, to meet each company on its arrival and escort the boys to the place prepared for each.

Colonel Wiley has been helping the boys all day, getting the baseball park in shape and arranging the details.

The judges, Captain Ham Branch and Lieutenants Mell and Brooks, of the Savannah Cadets, arrived today and are quartered at the Hotel Lanier, where they will arrange the programme tonight.

Preparations are going on on a grand scale to entertain Governor Gordon and suite during their stay in the city. Our people were uneasy and afraid that the illness of Governor Gordon might prevent his attending, and they are overjoyed at the welcome intelligence that he will come.

Tomorrow excursion trains will be run on the Covington and Macon, so that visitors will have a chance of a ride over the new road.

Tonight and tomorrow night the Macon Dramatic association will perform at the academy of music for the benefit of the cadets.

Mr. A. A. Subers, the ice cream man, has rented the refreshment privileges at the park during the drill, and he hopes to make a good thing out of it.

The dust will be pretty bad unless it rains, but nobody will pay much attention to that, for there will be so many pleasant things to see and hear that people will forget that Macon can afford more whisky than water in a case of emergency.

GOVERNOR GORDON IN MACON.

The Train Arrives After a Successful Trip.

MACON, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—The down train on the Central road brought the Moreland cadets and the Dahlonega cadets, and in a few minutes the Georgia train rolled in with the Middle Georgia cadets and then the drum corps struck up a lively march, and with a quickstep the boys marched up Fourth to Poplar, up Poplar to First, and down First to the Daisy house where the Dahlonega cadets were quartered. The others then marched to Miss Benton's where the Moreland cadets were safely housed, and the Middle Georgia cadets struck camp. The Southern cadets then marched down in front of their armory where they were halted and drawn up in line until 7:15, when the company marched down to the East Tennessee depot, to meet the other companies and the governor. After a phenomenal run of one hour and fifty-nine minutes from Atlanta to Macon, the train rolled in bearing Governor Gordon and members of his staff, and the Atlanta Rifles. A carriage and four of the handsomest horses in Macon were in waiting, and Bid's band was on hand to discourse sweet music. The Southern Cadets and the Atlanta Rifles formed in line and followed the long line of carriages to the Hotel Lanier, where the cortege halted and Governor Gordon, Adjutant-General Kell, Colonels Ross and J. T. Hanson alighted amid loud huzzas of the assembled multitude. There are on hand of the governor's suite, besides Adjutant-General Kell and Judge Advocate General Candler, Colonels Ross, Key, West, Swift, Harrell, Daly and Warring with Lieutenant Wiley, of the Second Georgia Battalion. The town is full of people and the military spirit is largely predominant. Everything is quiet and the boys are getting to bed at nine o'clock.

Tomorrow Governor Gordon will be tendered a reception by Colonel W. H. Ross at noon, at the academy for the blind in the afternoon, and by the city council at night. On Thursday he will be entertained by Colonel E D. Huguenin at noon; at Wesleyan Female college in the afternoon, and by the Cadets at night. He is looking well, and retired early tonight without feeling much fatigue.

TO HONOR GORDON.

The Macon City Council to Call on Him Today.

MACON, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—In council tonight, the question of a new gas and water company was discussed. The committee on Starr's proposal to lay gas mains in the city, recommended that the privilege be granted. Alderman Proudfit then introduced a resolution inviting any company to erect a complete system of gas and waterworks in the city of Macon. Alderman Hudgins offered a resolution requiring the contractors to specify that the company shall not sell to the other or vice versa. Alderman Ingalls spoke in favor of stipulating about the quality of the gas. The resolutions were all carried. Alderman Proudfit then introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, By the mayor and council of the city of Macon that a cordial welcome be and the same is hereby extended to his Excellency Governor John B. Gordon and staff, and to the visiting military to the city of Macon.

Resolved further, That the mayor and council of the city pay their respects in a body to his excellency tomorrow evening at such hour as will best suit his excellency.

The resolution was adopted and council adjourned.

MR. KLINE'S FUNERAL.

Borne to the Grave by His Old Associates and Friends.

MACON, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—Today at ten o'clock, the funeral of Mr. W. R. Kline occurred at Mulberry Street Methodist church, Rev. Dr. J. O. A. Cook officiating. The pall bearers were selected from his old friends of whom he leaves many in this city. They were: J. C. Hoge, D. M. Gugel, L. C. Young, W. W. Rolston, S. S. Pegram and E. J. Hervey. The services were very interesting, and a long procession followed the remains to the cemetery.

Will Hendricks Caught Up With.

MACON, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—Tonight patrolman McClusky arrested Will Hendricks, who was carrying a ten-inch dirk in his bootleg for the benefit of a rival.

Dorrihan Vindicated.

MACON, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—Patrick Dorrihan's trial was concluded today, and he was released, as it turned out that the money found on his person was all right.

DOTS AND DASHES.

Some Spicy Specials Served in Short Sentences.

MACON, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—Mr. W. W. Solomon and his bride, nee Miss Louise Massey, returned home today and were happily received and reinstated in the old mansion by Mrs Massey, who generously forgave them and welcomed them with open arms.

Bishop Becker, of St. Joseph's, left for a visit to Charleston today.

A lively race between an Italian fruit vendor and a negro boy enlivened the precincts of Triangular block this afternoon.

Floyd Cleveland, a prominent young attorney of Griffin, will deliver the sophomore medals of Mercer university on June 28.

The First street Methodist Sunday school enjoyed a big picnic in the park today. There was a large crowd in attendance and all passed off pleasantly.

ROME'S HOSPITALITY

Displayed Toward the Visiting Business Men.

ROME, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—The third annual celebration of the board of trade, which occurred today, was a very successful and enjoyable affair. The members of the boards of trade of Atlanta, Savannah, Anniston, Birmingham, Chattanooga, and other cities were present. Several journalists were also here, among them being Mr. George W. Ochs, of the Chattanooga Times, and Mr. Randall, of the Anniston Hot Blast.

At 10 o'clock the delegates and citizens assembled at the city hall. After a few appropriate remarks by Mr. J. W. Rounsaville, president of the Rome board of trade, an address of welcome was delivered by Hon. Linton A. Dean. The address was a graceful and eloquent one, and was closely listened to and frequently applauded. The visitors were then driven to places of interest in the city and vicinity, after which all repaired to Graham's springs, in East Rome, where a splendid barbecue had been prepared, to which all did ample justice.

At 4:30 p. m. the firemen's parade occurred. The engine, reels and trucks were beautifully decorated with flowers and flags. The following was the order of march: Chief L. J. Wagner, followed by Rainbow Steam Fire Engine company, W. H. Steel, captain. The Citizens' Hook and Ladder company, John J. McDonald foreman. The Mountain City Fire Engine company, W. W. Seay captain, followed by two juvenile organizations the L. J. Wagner, No. 3, and the Henry W. Grady hook and ladder.

The procession was reviewed by the mayor and council, after which several runs were made in splendid style. This feature of the day's exercises was highly enjoyed by the visitors, and they were all loud in their praises of Rome's fire department.

At 5 o'clock the citizens and visitors embarked on the steamer John J. Seay for a ride down the Coosa. Refreshments were served on board the steamer. Toasts were drank in sparkling champagne. The day was one of real pleasure to all, and our visitors will leave with vivid recollections of Rome's magnificent resources and the splendid hospitality of her people.

MR. SENEY'S SENSITIVENESS.

He Hopes the Girls are Not Mad with Him.

ATHENS, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—The telegrams relative to "Dot," it is said, reached Mr. Geo. I. Seney's ears, and made that excellent gentleman uncomfortable. It is said that he even felt wounded, and the local paper a few days ago contained a column article about the matter, in which it was stated that the Lucy Cobb girls sent Seney a telegram expressing their love and gratitude. Seney has done a great deal for the institute and deserves all its affection. Within the past few days he has placed the school under a new obligation by presenting a magnificent painting. It is the work of Elizabeth Gardner, and is entitled "La Confidence." The painting represents two girls in all the prime of glowing womanhood, one with a letter in her hand, presumably a love letter, acquainting the other with its contents. The work is splendidly executed, and is pronounced by good judges a most exquisite painting. The figures are life-size, and the painting is perhaps six feet by eight feet. The cost is not known, but it is generally understood to have been very large. The painting is temporarily in the hall of the institute, and will be placed in proper position in a few days. The painting is handsomely framed.

THE SPALDING GREYS

To Make a Display in the Macon Drill.

GRIFFIN, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—The Spalding Greys will leave here tomorrow morning for Macon to participate in the festivities of the military drill. The Greys are a fine body of men, and their appearance will reflect much credit on Griffin. They have recently purchased new uniforms, and will unquestionably be the best dressed company in Macon. Their uniforms consist of a red coat, trimmed in gilt and black, English tunic cut, gray pants, trimmed in red and gilt; gilt epauletts, black helmet, with white yock plume. The following members will go: H. O. Wood, captain; First Lieutenant C. F. Newton, Second Lieutenant J. T. Stephenson, First Sergeant John Sears, Second Sergeant G. J. Cunningham, Third Sergeant George Grant, Fourth Sergeant H. C. McKenney, Paul Parlie, Boss Jones, Charlie Springer, Charlie Smith, Walter Powell, Jack Mangum, N. M. Collins, F. M. Springer, Ben Futrel, E. B. Worman, J. G. Newton, Sol Mock and A. W. Goldsby. Stonewall's silver cornet band will accompany the Greys. The party will stop at the Hotel Lanier.

ON A VISIT TO AUGUSTA.

Distinguished Athenians in the City by Hamburg.

ATHENS, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—Solicitor General E. T. Brown inaugurates the spring gayety by a moonlight fishing party on the middle Oconee river tonight, at Mitchell's bridge. The affair is complimentary to a fair and popular young lady from a western city. The ladies will be matronized by a well known married lady, and the occasion promises to be one of rare enjoyment.

Quite a number of Athens people are spending the week in Augusta. Among the number are Dr. T. S. Hamilton, Colonel Stevens Thomas, Mrs. L. H. Charbonnier, Mrs. Rucker, Mrs. P. A. Stovall and family, Mr. Billups Phinizy and family, Mr. Sylvanus Morris and a number of the stockholders of the Georgia railroad and their families from the surrounding country. The occasion is the annual convention of the stockholders of the Georgia Railroad and Banking company.

MRS. BESARE WINS,

And is Awarded Twenty-one Hundred Dollars by the Jury.

MACON, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—The Besare suit for alimony closed today, and the jury brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $1,170, with interest from December 31, 1875.

This case was begun fourteen years ago, when, on April 16, 1873, Mrs. Besare filed suit against her husband for divorce. It was passed upon and the divorce granted, with alimony, in 1875. Besare paid the $45 per month for six months, and then left the country.

The jury gave the plaintiff a verdict allowing her the sum of $1,170, and added to it the interest since 1875, which brings the amount up to about $2,150. It is understood that the case will be carried up.

BIBB COUNTY GRANGERS.

Hold a Meeting and Adopt Constitution and By-laws.

MACON, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—Today at the courthouse the Bibb county Agricultural and Industrial association met. The constitution and by-laws were presented, voted on and adopted. The association, after a little minor work, adjourned to meet on the last Saturday in May, when a president and other officers will be elected.

An Old and Well-Known Lady Passes Away in Vineville.

MACON, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—Mrs. S. S. Virgin, aunt of Mrs. W. A. Huff, died at her home near Vineville. Mrs. Virgin was seventy-eight years old, and her age was the cause of her death.

The funeral will occur at the residence of Mrs. J. A. Virgin, in Vineville, at ten o'clock tomorrow.

The Holiness Convention.

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—The delegates to the holiness convention began to arrive yesterday evening on the 3:40 train. Two more trains are yet to be heard from and a great crowd is looked for. Among those arrived is Rev. J. A. Jarrell, a former pastor of the Methodist church. Bishop Key is looked for and many lights from other states.

They Wish to Become Citizens.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Twelve Irish constables, who resigned their offices because they were compelled to carry on eviction, and who arrived in New York last week, today announced their intention of becoming citizens of the United States by filing their applications in the court of common pleas. They have all been employed as salesmen in a large clothing house.

THE CHATTAHOOCHEE.

THE WEALTH ALONG ITS VERDANT BANKS.

The Assembling in Columbus of the Chattahoochee Valley Convention—A Remarkable Address by Senator Joseph E. Brown—Distinguished Honors Paid Him by the Citizens.

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—The Chattahoochee valley convention assembled here this morning at nine o'clock. There were sixteen counties in Georgia, Alabama and Florida represented. The permanent organization was effected by the election of the following officers:

President, Congressman Crisp, of Georgia.

Vice president, Hon. W. J. Sandford, of Alabama.

Second vice president, Hon. J. E Grady, of Florida.

Third vice president, Nelson Tift, of Georgia.

Secretaries, W. O. Johnson, of Columbus, and J. F. Hudson, of Apalachicola.

The call for the convention was read by Captain C. A. Redd, of this city, and the convention was opened with prayer by Rev. G. G. N. McDonnell. Mayor Grimes delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the city, and Congressman Grimes on behalf of the board of trade. The response was made by Hon. W. J. Sanford, of Opelika, and it was a gem of a speech.

C. E. Hochstrasser, president board of trade of Columbus, read a paper on the commerce resources and possibilities of the Chattahoochee valley. In the providential absence of Congressman Oates, of Alabama, L. C. Levy, of this city, was selected to address the convention on the subject of the government right of domain over navigable water courses.

Hon. R. H. M. Davidson, of Florida, who was to have addressed the convention, was unable to be present.

Hon. J. L. Grady, of Florida, read a paper showing the improvement of Apalachicola harbor.

Captain Hochstrasser, of this city, read the annual report for 1886 of R. L. Hoxie, captain of engineers United States of America, in charge of improvements on Chattahoochee, Flint and Apalachicola rivers, showing their present condition and cost, and probable cost of completion.

Tonight the opera house was crowded with people who went out to hear Hon. Joseph E. Brown, of Georgia, speak on the subject: "Public interest demands that in all future legislation for the improvement of navigable streams by congress, it should discriminate in its appropriations between those rivers whose magnitude and importance as avenues of interstate commerce entitle them to national consideration and those that do not."

Senator Brown's speech was greatly enjoyed, and he has been the subject of marked attention while here.

A paper by Captain George H. Whiteside was read on the great increase of tonnage in this inspection district.

The convention adjourned tonight, and tomorrow the delegates will go on an excursion up the Georgia Midland, and tomorrow night they will be banquetted at the Hotel Riddle.

The convention before adjourning adopted a resolution by the committee on resolutions instructing the president to appoint a committee of one from each county to collect statistics and report them to the Columbus board of trade, to be compiled and forwarded to members of congress from Georgia, Alabama and Florida, that they may know the importance of the Chattahoochee valley section. The president will appoint the committee at his leisure.

Senator Brown will return to Atlanta tomorrow. No other resolutions except the usual ones of thanks were passed.

ANNISTON IRON ORES.

A Denial of the Statement That They are Nearly Exhausted.

ANNISTON, Ala., May 9.—[Special.]—Major T. H. Hopkins, of Selma, Ala., formerly a resident and mayor of this city, is up on a few days' visit among old friends.

THE CONSTITUTION correspondent in his account of Talladega yesterday did Anniston an injustice by stating that the iron ores were so near exhausted here that the Woodstock Iron company had been forced to buy ore lands in Talladega county to supply the furnaces here. This is not true. They have furnaces in that county to work the ores there. The splendid iron that was mentioned used in making cannon in Selma during the war, was made mostly by a furnace here, and not in Talladega county. The furnace was owned and operated by Selma men. This furnance was destroyed by Wilson's raid.

It has been wisely suggested that tents in the groves near the works in this city would supply for the summer the pressing demand for residences. It is impossible to build houses to supply the present wants.

EAST ALABAMA FAIR ASSOCIATION.

The Business Men of Opelika Moving in its Behalf.

OPELIKA, Ala., May 10.—[Special.]—Among the largest moves being made in Opelika is the organization of the East Alabama Fair association. The projectors propose making it a fair second to none except the annual state fair in Montgomery. The grounds they are about to select are among the prettiest in the state, and, with the expenditure of a few thousand dollars, can be put in elegant shape. By fall both the Columbus and Western extensin and the East Alabama extension will have been completed to their respective objective points, and from them the association looks for a large and remunerative support. The effort is regarded as being one of the safest for Opelika and one calculated to add much to her material progress.

Arresting the Magistrate.

MT. STERLING, Ky., May 10.—Squire Sterliffer, who took an unusual course of liberating Mr. Corneilson, who was serving a sentence for his assault on Judge Reid, has been arrested on the charge of unlawfully aiding an escaped prisoner. This proceeding is under a provision of the general statutes, and the trial will begin tomorrow.

A Severe Hailstorm.

VILLA RICA, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—A severe hailstorm, with strong wind and rain, passed through this place last night about 9 o'clock. The wheat crop is supposed to be more badly damaged than any other crop; not enough of the cotton crop up for the damage to amount to much. What cotton that was up is cut to pieces. Some hailstones were almost as large as guinea eggs, and at 8 o'clock this morning we had as much ice as we needed.

THE TEMPERANCE WOMEN,

Who Meet in Annual Convention in Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—The Woman's Christian Temperance union of Georgia met in their fifth annual convention this morning, at the Masonic hall, Liberty and Whitaker streets. The stage was prettily and tastefully decorated with ferns, palms, blooming lilies, moss and banners. About thirty delegates were present. Mrs. W. C. Sibley, the president of the union, called the meeting to order at 10 o'clock, and a short devotional exercise was held. Mrs. Richard Webb, of Savannah, president, delivered the address of welcome. Mrs. J. Jefferson Thomas, of Augusta, responded.

The president in her report went fully over the work of the union in the state during the past year. On the subject of statistics she said that the work of this department brings such encouraging reports from prohibition counties of the relative decrease of drunkenness, lawlessness and crime, and the consequent advancement of morality and religion where liquor has been removed, that scarcely another word need be said on prohibition. Atlanta, the present great center of prohibition interest, tells the following though one of its own people, "The effect of prohibition on the morals of the people exceeds anything we had hoped for. Think of a city of more than 60,000 souls passing a whole day, and sometimes two days, without one arrest for drunkenness or any other offense against the law. The business of Atlanta is 25 per cent better than it ever has been before, and is rapidly increasing every day. The best class of people are coming to us from all quarters. The hotels and boarding houses are all crowded, and it is impossible to find a building to rent. Vast amounts of money have been sent here recently for investment in real estate and manufactures; charters have been granted for three new railroads which will be completed within the next two years. If this can be called ruining Atlanta, then let the whole country be similarly ruined." The address was received with applause.

After a short recess the president announced the appointment of the following committees: Resolutions and plan of work—Mrs. W. B. Hill, Mrs. Tarbutton, Mrs. Rogan, Mrs. Searcy, Mrs. Hunt; finance—Mrs. Snead, Mrs Chandler, Mrs. McDonell, Mrs. Hancock and Mrs. Henderson; auditing committee—Mrs. F. E. Brown, Mrs. J. B. Bird, Mrs. Butler Ford. A half hour was spend in introducing delegates to the convention and short responses, after which the convention took a recess until 3:30 p. m., standard time.

The reports of the local unions by the delegates were heard from this afternoon. Tonight's session began at eight o'clock. Several addresses were delivered. On Friday the delegates will go on an excursion down the river to the rim of the Atlantic.

WHY HARRIS WAS WANTED.

He Goes Back to Florida Without a Requisition.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—Sheriff Holland, of Jacksonville, arrived in the city last night, and had an interview with Charles V. Harris, who pretended that he wanted to commit suicide at the police barracks yesterday. Sheriff Holland stated that Harris had stolen $60 and some gold rings from a Mrs. Laidlaw, who keeps a boarding house in Jacksonville. Mr. Harris had represented to her that he was a detective and had been employed by her as a drummer to secure boarders, and after taking the money on Sunday afternoon Harris walked to Callahan, where he boarded a train. The thief is said to be thorough crook from the north. He went back this morning to Jacksonville with the sheriff without waiting for a requisition, as he was threatened with prosecution here for carrying concealed weapons.

Located by the Buzzards.

CLARKESVILLE, Ga., May 10.—[Special.]—It is reported here on authority this evening, that an old man by the name of Jarrett, who lives nine miles from this place, was found dead in the woods near his house. If it had not been for the buzzards he might not have been found. It is stated that a note was with the body stating the circumstances of the murder. None of the particulars are yet known here.

Lynchburg Tobacconists Fail.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 10.—M. T. Smith & Co., tobacconists, made an assignment today for the benefit of creditors. They executed a deed in favor of Petters & Flood, who are their heaviest indorsers. The amount involved is unknown.

OUR LITTLE GRANDCHILD

Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It gives me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your Cuticura Remedies. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the upperlip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook to care him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula, of course). He could walk a little but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the Cuticura Remedies, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the Cuticura Resolvent, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged and continued the use of the remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formation I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of 6 years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the Cuticura Remedies and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

MRS. E. S. DRIGGS,
May 9, 1885. 612 E. Clay St., Bloomington, Ill.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

GEORGE FRANCIS TRAIN, whom most people call crazy, has begun suit for property in Omaha, which is valued at $10,000,000.

A WASHINGTON newspaper man the other day invested $5 in a pool on a horse race and drew out $625. He has resigned his journalistic environments.

THE ripening days of spring have brought out the Georgia barbecue. Until a man has partaken of Georgia barbecue he may be said to have lived in vain.

MOBILE and Pensacola have joined the procession of cities which are in favor of strict Sunday laws. With New Orleans and Washington as the pioneers in this movement no city in America can create a sensation by joining it.

THEY say the Standard Oil company was too heavy a load for Senator Camden to carry and it drowned him. Still this able company has some reliable friends in the United States senate. What great and rich corporation in the country has not?

THE funniest of all the presidential booms is that which is appended to the name of Senator Joe Hawley, of Connecticut. While a hundred newspapers and as many statesmen are referring to it, no one, not even Senator Hawley himself, appears to be willing to stand sponsor for it.

EVERY day accumulates evidence that the hostile critics of President Cleveland are becoming winded. Nothing that they have been able to trump up has affected the popular regard for the president. The best thing the bellowsed critics can do is to join the procession.

THE Boston Record says that if the republican party can nominate a ticket in 1888 which will challenge the confidence of the people it will win. This strikes us as the safest of all the problematical assertions we have ever seen. No possible republican ticket can challenge the confidence of the people.

SOMEHOW an impression has spread over the union that President Cleveland is the friend of the western settler. This is correct, but it hardly goes far enough. President Cleveland is the friend of the people of these United States, and is giving the best possible proof of this fact in his honest and capable administration.

THE action of the supreme court in granting a new trial to McCoy, who was convicted of the murder of Kellet, in Walker county, will not surprise those who are well acquainted with the case. The defendant's counsel made the best fight possible all the way through, and with a new trial the final result may be materially changed.

IT strikes us that some of the newspapers in the south are unduly exercised over General Sherman's article on General Lee. General Sherman's estimate of Robert E Lee is of no importance whatever, but the estimate that impartial history will place on General Sherman is of considerable importance, especially to the general himself.

RHODE ISLAND'S governor has made an innovation in the pardon business which is worth examination in other states. Instead of limiting the exercise of executive clemency to convicts who have powerful and influential friends to petition for them he grants pardons upon the recommendation of the board of state charities, which selects its beneficiaries from among the friendless inmates of the penitentiary.

SILENCE is golden. Eloquent George Vest cannot make enough speeches in the United States senate for the next ten years, if he should remain in that body so long, to overcome the effect of his recent foolish talk about the president's intention which he uttered to an insignificant audience in Washington. The people who love Mr. Vest best think it is a great pity that he did not retire early on that eventful evening He sat up so late that he developed a disastrous case of the jaw disease.

THE report of the bureau of statistics just received shows that the imports for the month of March amount to $62,929,242, being an increase over the same month of last year of $2,890,000. The largest increase in articles was in coffee and tin plate. Dutiable goods only increased but little over $1,000,000. The imports for the nine months ending March 31 amounted to $508,875,387, an increase of $38,000,000 over the same period of last year. Of this increase nearly $27,000,000 was in dutiable, and the remainder in free goods. At the average rate of duty this shows an increase in customs over last year of about $12,000,000. The import of sugar fell off about $3,000,000, which indicates, either that more was produced or that less is being used.

This is Not Jeffersonian Simplicity.

A queen is a queen, and the fact that she is a little off color should not be allowed to weigh heavily against us.

Still, in this democratic country, it is in the worst possible taste to make much ado over royalty, especially when it is of the ginger-cake colored variety. Take the case of the queen of the Hawaiian islands, who is now on a visit to this country. It is all right and proper that she should be courteously treated and sent away with pleasant impressions of our people and our government, but it is not necessary that we should say and do absurdly unrepublican things. When the queen boarded a government steamer, the other day, for a little trip to Mount Vernon, Lieutenant Cowles, of the navy, welcomed her in the following speech:

> "I ask your gracious majesty's permission to speak. [The queen bowed her head.] His excellency, the secretary of the navy, begs that your majesty will accept his respectful homage, and begs that your majesty will accept of this vessel to convey you to Mount Vernon, the resting place of the illustrious founder of this country. The secretary is always glad to render any service to a beautiful woman and is doubly pleased today in the fact that that beautiful woman is your gracious majesty, the wise ruler of a nation near and friendly to the United States."

The queen listened to this remarkable address in silent amazement. Some of the members of her party were indignant. The Americans were disgusted. The lieutenant claims that as the commander of the vessel, he felt bound to address his guest in such language as queens are accustomed to. He was determined to do the honors in a stylish way. The general opinion, however, is that it was a great mistake for an officer of our government to cut such a caper, and Lieutenant Cowles is not likely to hear the last of it for some time. After his brother officers get through with him the Washington belles will doubtless have something to say to him. He was not obliged, you know, to call her dusky majesty "a beautiful woman" twice in a brief speech of fourteen lines.

The Atlanta Manufacturers' Association.

We are frequently asked the questions, "What is the Atlanta Manufacturers' association, and what has it accomplished?"

We will endeavor to answer these questions, and we hope satisfactorily to the reader.

At a called meeting of the citizens of Atlanta, Georgia, August 27th, 1886, to take into consideration the necessity and importance of the encouragement of manufactures, his Hon George Hillyer, chairman, it was resolved that a committee of fifty be appointed to formulate a plan for the organization of a body to be known as The Atlanta Manufacturers' association.

A committee of fifty leading citizens representing the various interests of the city was appointed by his honor, the mayor, and reported as follows:

> Your committee, after a full and careful consideration of the subject matter referred to them, being strongly impressed with the importance and necessity of an earnest, living support of the manufacturing interests that we now have, as well as the active and practical encouragement of new manufacturing interests, beg leave to recommend the organization of our manufacturers, merchants, bankers and business men generally, into a body to be known as The Atlanta Manufacturers' association.
> The objects of the association to be the gathering and collecting by the secretary all the data attainable in connection with the manufacturing interests of the city, the special lines of manufactures most needed and best suited for this locality; manufacturing sites and their value; conduct correspondence with parties desiring information; to receive and assist parties who may visit us with the intention of investing and locating with us; to aid our own manufacturers in their efforts to extend their area of trade; and especially to invite new enterprises and aid in their location with us; in a word, to do anything and everything possible to advance the interests of Atlanta.

We trust that the foregoing fully explains the objects of the association. In answer to the question, "What has the association accomplished?" we quote from the second quarterly report of the secretary, March 21st, 1887:

> "The association in the short space of six months has been instrumental in establishing eight new enterprises with an aggregate capital of over a quarter of a million of dollars, employing over 400 operatives, and the direct means of increasing our population over 2,000 people."
> "Placing the average value of the product of each operative at $2,000 per annum—a low estimate—we have $800,000 in new values as the result of the work of the association for six months. The amount may be safely estimated at $1,250,000."
> "The working efficiency of the association has been greatly crippled for the want of means."

The association started out with 137 members, of whom only 81 have paid their dues.

For several months the association has been kept alive by the personal contributions of its officers. The association should have means with which to advertise the organization in northern trade journals, showing Atlanta's superior advantages for diversified manufactures, and thus secure a liberal share of the millions that are flowing south for investments in competing cities.

The secretary is now canvassing the city for an increase of membership, and it is to be hoped he will meet with good success.

With the good work the association has done, Atlanta cannot afford to let it drag for want of proper support.

The Deadly Cigarette.

A distressed father sends to the sanitary headquarters of New York the following wail of despair:

> I am the father of four boys, and two of them are cigarette smokers—one twelve the other fourteen years. I notice their health is failing, and I send them to a physician. He says it is from smoking cigarettes. I have begged them to desist, but without avail. I have punished them in various ways, but they seem to have acquired a habit which it is almost next to impossible to check. Their school companions also smoke. Besides this, the photos which the manufacturers pack in the boxes are of such a vulgar description, that alone will ruin our young men, besides destroying their health with the poisonous cigarettes. You would confer a great blessing on the people of the city by rising up against the monstrous crime of which the manufacturers of these cigarettes are guilty. They ought to be taxed out of existence. There was a bill introduced in our legislature a few years ago prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to boys under fourteen. Bribery was used to defeat it. I know it to be a fact. Yours with respect. An aggrieved parent. WILLIAM CONROY.

Mr. Conroy seems to feel an interest in his sons. He would like to see them grow to perfect manhood. He would rejoice to see them robust, clear-headed and undefiled in mind and body.

But, alas, for the hopes of Mr. Conroy. He finds that the deadly cigarette is a bigger man than he is. He finds the miserable little roll of sorry tobacco has stolen vigor from the limbs of his boys and left them physical wrecks on the very threshold of youth.

The most painful part of Mr. Conroy's letter is his despairing reference to the obscene pictures. No longer contented with destroying the health of boys, certain manufacturers of cigarettes now put into each package an obscene photograph. The effect is most pernicious.

Cigarettes, accompanied by pictures not good for the youths of the land to see, are sold by the thousand in Atlanta. It is a wonder that some of the leaders in our moral reform movements have not looked into the obscene picture business that is going hand in hand with the cigarette traffic.

It may be there is no way to reach the cigarettes and the pictures. There is certainly a way to reach the boy who insists on smoking the one and feasting his eyes on the other. The way to reach such a boy is to reach him with the loose end of a buggy trace. It will not kill him, and it may possibly cure him. The cigarette habit is a desperate disease and requires heroic treatment.

Let the Ladies Go Armed.

The New York Graphic reports an outrage at Ridley's dry goods store, of a more atrocious character than the affair at Macy's, some months ago.

It seems that a respectable lady who had been shopping at Ridley's was suddenly dragged by two male employes to a back room, where, in spite of her protestations and outcries, she was searched. Her piteous appeal to be searched by one of her own sex was ignored. The male floor-walkers rudely felt through her garments, and compelled her to unloose her corset. Finding that they were mistaken in their supposition that she was a thief the two brutes roughly hustled the hysterical woman out of the store.

It is something that the lady was awarded $5,000 damages in court, but it is not enough. The insults and assaults to which respectable women are subjected in some of the New York stores continue, notwithstanding the exposures made in the newspapers and the action of the courts. Desperate cases call for desperate remedies. When ladies go shopping alone in New York they should go armed. The shooting of a few floor-walkers would improve the morals and manners of the others. It is a terrible thing to recommend, but is there a man living who would be willing to have his wife go through the rough experience hinted at in this article?

COLONEL BLANTON DUNCAN prances to the front as a prophet. He thinks the natural forces at work in the bowels of the earth will create great disturbances during the next ten years. The colonel writes like a man who is full of the original "Kentucky idee."

A SPECIAL from Youngstown, O, says that a letter has been received in that town from a man in Germany who declares that the only daughter of Bayard Taylor will shortly be married to a young German officer named Otto Killiani, who is attending medical lectures at Halle, Germany. The engagement, the writer said, had just been announced at Halle, where it created something of a sensation. The bride-elect is over thirty and the prospective groom twenty-four. It is said to be a genuine love match.

THERE is but one way to please the free traders and that is to turn the democratic party bodily over to the whisky ring.

IN Lewiston, Maine, old man Stinson's son, Henry, fell in love with Mrs. Ella Morrill, whose husband is in the penitentiary. Old man Stinson did not like the idea of his son loving the wife of a convict, so he bought a few figs and loaded them with paris green. He sent them to Henry's charmer, and also sent the following sentimental note, written in imitation of Henry's writing:

> Dear Ella—I cannot come tonight, as I have a stranger here with me. I send you these. Eat them at 9 o'clock and remember what you are thinking about, and tell me when we meet. I have also three which I will eat and tell you what I think of. Show this to no one. H.

The woman discovered the poison and now old man Stinson is in jail. He is seventy-eight, bent and gray.

GENERAL SHERMAN makes a comparison between Lee and Grant in favor of the latter. The only comparison that can be made between Lee and Sherman is to refer to the campaign of the former in Pennsylvania and compare it with the campaign of the latter in Georgia.

IT is rumored that Brother Blaine has been consulting Planchette.

A STRANGE story comes from Vincennes, Ind. Philip Geier, a wealthy German of Cincinnati attended a religious gathering near Vincennes. While speaking in the meeting he dropped to the floor, and was pronounced dead by the physicians, who examined him. The body was put into a coffin and was carried to the depot for shipment. Bystanders swear they heard the man kicking in the coffin. The corpse made such a disturbance that one of the men who was assisting, was frightened and let his end of the coffin drop. Strange to say the box was not opened until it reached Cincinnati. Then it was found that the corpse had turned over in the coffin and had torn the shroud into rags.

WE shall believe that the free traders are revenue reformers when they go in for reforming the internal revenue system by abolishing it.

SOME of our western exchanges are very much disturbed about the financial condition of Russia. It is a cold day when a St. Louis or Chicago paper doesn't formulate an elaborate policy for one or more of the great powers.

PERSONS AND THINGS.

COLONEL OCHILTREE now says: "The more I know men, the better I like dogs."

BUFFALO BILL has received several hundred invitations to dinner since he has been in London.

ROSCOE CONKLING and Colonel Ingersoll never walk, even a short distance, if they can find a street car.

MR. CARTER HARRISON is said to be losing health seriously as a result of losing the mayoralty of Chicago.

MARSHALL P. WILDER, the humorist, and Captain A. S. Williams, of the New York police force, never drank anything intoxicating.

MADAME PATTI always wears with pleasure two inexpensive bangle bracelets, from which depend small golden disks with Hebrew words engraved thereupon.

MR. HENRY S. PANCOAST, who has been eminent as an advocate of the rights of the Indians, will spend the coming summer in England, making researches in English literature.

SIR JOHN ASTLEY, the well-known London sporting patron, captured a stalwart pickpocket lately who had stolen his watch and gave him a severe thrashing before handing him over to the police.

THE emperor of Japan is dark and his features are heavy and irregular, but there is much dignity and majesty in his carriage. His uniform is handsome, the white cloth trousers having broad stripes of gold chrysanthemums, and the black coat being almost covered with embroidery in chrysanthemums.

Going to the Bad.

From a New York Letter.

The other night I dropped into one of our leading theaters, sitting about midway down the orchestra line. In my front were three young fellows, on my right one, behind him two. On my left were two others, with front and back surrounding similar to the first. They ranged from 17 to 23 or 24, all well dressed and all presentable young men. Did they look at the play? Not if my eyes were not deceptive. Immediately around us were several young ladies, ages about that of the boys. Were these young ladies watching the scenes? Not any. The boys were watching the girls; glances and remarks were passed that certainly looked equivocal. These remarks passed by and between the young scalawags could be heard by the near-by listeners, and it required a sharp admonition to stop their incessant twaddle and inuendo. A young lady, whom the writer knows, passed by, under the escort of a gentleman, taking a front seat. Several whispers ensued, curls of the lip and jerks of the hand, while the young hoodlum at my side remarked, "Three sisters; played out; N. G." I looked at him in astonishment. I knew the family of the lady. I turned to the young cuss, tapped him on the arm, and asked him if he knew the girl and her name. "Yes, and her sisters, and they're no good." He really mentioned the names of all the ladies. I told him to make no further remarks, or I should make trouble for him right then and there. He gave me a stare of amazement, evident of surprise, too, at my impertinent intermeddling, and then arose and left his seat. Now this does not occur in one theater alone; it runs the gamut of them all, more or less, and the perplexing question is, What are we coming to, where are we bound, if this young life starts into maturity thus unprincipled and unshackled?

CABLE SEVERELY CRITICISED.

An Eminent Louisiana Creole's Opinion of His Stories.

New Orleans, May 10.—No man in Louisiana has attained a higher position in the eyes of his people than Mr. Charles Gayarre, who still lives in New Orleans. He has reached almost his ninetieth birthday, yet continues to be a vigorous writer and thinker. Not only in politics but in literature has his name been honored. His residence is on Prieur street between Esplanade and Keleric, an unpretentious one-story frame cottage. In response to a knock at his door, Mme. Gayarre appeared, a petite figure, with a smiling face and an amount of savoir vivre which made me feel at ease in an instant.

I found Judge Gayarre sitting in his front room, which served as a parlor and library. Dressed in a long woollen dressing-gown, tied at the waist by a silk cord, with feet incased in slippers, he looked the picture of peaceful old age. Postponing his morning cup of coffee, which he was about to take when I entered, he began an interesting and animated conversation. His own literary efforts, the new south, old New Orleans, and, at last, Cable's works, were discussed.

He said: "I could never bring myself to writing for money when I had to sacrifice truth to gain that end. When I took my 'Ferdinand de Lemos' and 'Aubert Dubayet' to a publisher, he complained that they were too truthful and urged me to change them, which I refused to do. "Ferdinand de Lemos" and "Aubert Dubayet" are two novels founded on fact. His "History of Louisiana" in three volumes, is a masterpiece of historical literature The North American Review sent a correspondent to New Orleans after the war to find some one to write unbiassedly on the southern question. After inquiring of many prominent persons Judge Gayarre was pronounced by both sides to be the person most competent to deal with it. For the Review he wrote his treatise upon "The Southern Question," which was copied into English magazines, and by the people of England was pronounced the only thing ever written which fully explained the subject to them. In speaking of his life of Philip II of Spain, he spoke of Philip's emancipation proclamation to the Moors and how Lincoln's, by some singular coincidence, was almost an exact reproduction of it. He spoke of this in his "Philip the Second," but having placed it into the hands of a friend to superintend its publication while the author was abroad, the portion alluding to the coincidence was omitted, through the feeling of the friend that it might create some ill feeling, owing to the time at which it appeared. During my visit he showed me a letter which he had once received from Paul Hayne, in which the poet urged him to correct the impressions which Cable's works had produced at the north. "You are the only man in the south who can answer Cable, and you should do it," said Hayne. "Judge, what do you think of Cable as a writer—as a portrayer of New Orleans life?" I touched the mainspring of an interesting conversation. Turning to his desk near at hand, he opened a copy of "The Grandissimes:" reading a portion of the first chapter, he stopped; "Is that what people call good English? All of his writings are full of just such as this. As correctly written works I cannot conceive how they could have had any success. As for the truthfulness of his pictures of creole life, I can only say that they are gross misrepresentations. Into the mouths of refined foreigners he puts the miserable patois of the negroes and lower classes of mixed blood, when those very characters are able to speak their own language in all of its perfection. Moreover, the patois which he gives out is incorrect. He makes our people void of all sense of high morality; void of all high and pure affections. He fills them with passion, and only passion. His books are full of anachronisms so numerous that I cannot mention them here. When Mr. Cable's first works appeared I was asked by the Times-Democrat to criticise them. I refused to do so upon the ground that to criticise them would be as great a task as to rewrite them. When Mr. Cable heard this he came to me to ask why I refused to review his works. On that occasion I asked him if he knew intimately two creole families in New Orleans; two, to whose houses he had the entree so that he might study their individualities. He said that he did not. Can we expect such a man to give us correct descriptions of a people whom he has judged only at a distance?"

However interesting Mr. Cable's works may be from a fictitious standpoint, they should not be considered faithful pictures of creole men and women. A creole is not, as so many suppose, necessarily of low birth. The name was given to all Americans born in Louisiana of French or Spanish parentage by the San Dominguan refugees who flocked to New Orleans after the massacre of the French in San Domingo. The Acadians who left Nova Scotia and settled in Louisiana are not called creoles. Judge Gayarre is a Spanish creole; his life has been spent in the city of his birth. He has seen the city in prosperity and adversity in peace and in war, and, being naturally a close observer, is thoroughly conversant with every phase of its history and guards jealously the traditions of his people.

H. RIDER HAGGARD,

The Author of "She" Replies to the Charge of Plagiarism.

From the London Spectator.

I never read a line of either "The Epicurean" or the poem "Alciphron," but also to give the real source from which "She" was 'plagiarized" Some time ago a lady well acquainted with Africa wrote me some notes of native legends. One of them runs as follows:

"In the Sneeuw (show) Bergen, Cape Colony, there are immense caves which stretch on and on under the mountains and the end of which has never been found. It is believed by both Boers and natives that in the last cave there is a spring of water, which, if one finds and drinks of it, gives eternal youth. There are endless stories told of adventurous parties in search of this water of life, losing their way, meeting dangers both ghostly and bodily, and failing in their object at last. A newly married couple never returned from their search, and it was believed that harm had happened to them, because of the crimes the woman had committed in order to gain her husband. She killed her first husband and his brother, whom by native law she would have had to marry, as she had no children, and she had bewitched the man (her second husband) so that he followed her about like a shadow and did everything he was told by her."

Here I found the germs of "She." It will be seen that, without wishing to lay any particular claim to originality, I may fairly say that I have to some extent developed the idea.

These charges of plagarism are easy to make and difficult to disprove. It is quite impossible for anybody to write anything that does not in some way touch on ground which has already been trodden by others. The human mind is limited and unchangeable; it never thinks a new thought. The most that it can hope to do is to present an old one in a new aspect. I am sir, your obedient servant, H. RIDER HAGGARD.

Gladstone Arrested.

From the Sydney Bulletin.

Gladstone has been arrested for going about with only a sugar bag round his waist. His other assets were an ax and half a 'possum. It was not the grand old man, however, but an individual whose front name was Gladstone, and who lived like a degraded chimpanzee in the bush near Rockhampton, Q. He had an account at the Q. N. bank, but he didn't carry a check-book about with him. Gladstone, as we have already remarked, has been run in, but as he wore about as much clothes as the grim old female wrecks who appear at her majesty's receptions, we really don't see what the far northern beak can do to him. He can only be charged with wandering about in evening dress, and surely that is no crime in this free and enlightened country.

The Three Rulers.

I saw a Ruler take his stand,
And trample on a mighty land.
The People crouched before his beck;
His iron heel was on their neck;
His name shone bright through blood and pain;
His sword flashed back their praise again.

I saw another Ruler rise.
His words were noble, good and wise;
With the calm sceptre of his pen
He ruled the minds and thoughts of men.
Some scoffed, some praised; while many heard,
Only a few obeyed his word.

Another Ruler then I saw:
Love and sweet Pity were his law.
The greatest and the least had part
(Yet most the unhappy) in his heart.
The People, in a mighty band
Rose up, and drove him from the land.

LOVED HIM DESPITE PRISON BARS.

A Woman's Pathetic Plea to Have Freedom for a Tennessee Convict.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 10.—Eighteen years ago the doors of the state prison closed upon Frank Riddle, of Mason county, who had been sentenced to life imprisonment for murdering a German peddler. There were doubts as to the guilt of Riddle, who, refusing to acknowledge the crime and accept a term of fifteen years, insisted upon a plea of not guilty. The trial resulted in his conviction, and he appealed to the supreme court, which granted a new hearing. A second verdict against him was rendered and he was sent to the penitentiary. Year after year passed. One after another of the life-convicts died, and Riddle almost abandoned hope of obtaining his freedom.

While Governor Taylor was seated in his office yesterday a woman walked into the apartment and presented to him a petition for executive clemency signed by the lessees and every officer of the prison, who stated that Riddle's long incarceration had served the ends of justice. Accompanying the petition was a letter written by the woman who bore it. After the governor had read the documents the lady rose, and, addressing him, said:

"Governor Taylor, when the man was accused of murder I was engaged to be married to him. I did not believe him guilty, and did not break the engagement. During the two or three years that the trial was pending I still believed in him, During the eighteen years of his confinement I have stuck to him. His parents have died. His brothers and sisters are all dead, except a sister who lives out west. The people who were interested in the case then have forgotten him. I am the only friend he has in the world. My life has been wrapped up in him. I believe in him and have loved him through all these long, weary years, and I want you to pardon him. I do not ask you to think him an innocent man, but for the sake of two lives that may yet be happy I implore you to set him free."

Without waiting to hear the governor's decision she arose and left the office and the capitol. When the governor had cleared his eyes of tears, he said to Bishop Granberry: "Such devotion and constancy I have never seen, and whatever Riddle may have deserved it does look as if that woman ught to have a chance at happiness."

The prisoner will be pardoned.

ECHOES FROM THE PEOPLE.

Mexican War Muster Rolls.

DALTON, Ga., May 9.—Editors of the Constitution—I take this method of informing any of the surviving soldiers of the Mexican war who served in company D, 1st battalion of Georgia mounted volunteers that I have my muster roll book date of mustered in service and date of mustered out, date of all discharged and that died. Since the law has been passed granting pensions to soldiers and widows of that war, they can obtain the above informations by addressing me at Dalton, Whitfield county, Ga.

WILLIAM T. LOWRY.

The Proposed Bonds.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: We would like to see the county roads macadamized; but we should not go in debt to have this work done.

We are now out of debt, and we should stay out of debt forever, hereafter.

It is bad policy to go in debt, and in our opinion there is no need for it. Then let us avoid it.

We can raise by taxation, or otherwise, all the money we now need, or ever will need, and we ought not to be guilty of the folly of going in debt. Macadamize only a part of the roads now, and some every year, finishing all in five or ten years; and tax us enough to pay as we go. Instead of asking for authority to go in debt let us ask for authority to levy tax enough to pay as we go! This will be better. Then let the commissioners be vigilant in collecting money; let no man escape; and see that all goes into the treasury.

Think of it! a half-million of debt, to run thirty years! It is frightful! Think of the amount we would pay out in interest during that time! It would be no less than $22 500 every year, for thirty years! And no less than $675,000 in interest alone, to be paid out in that time, and including the principal would amount to one million one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars, to be paid out by us for the sake of having a half million to use now! It is appalling!

This would be a very convenient investment for persons having surplus cash who do not know what to do with it, but unless the necessity was pressing and nothing else could be done, we ought not thus at public expense to create good investments for capitalists.

If we were to issue these bonds, in all probability we would find it hard to pay them at maturity, and new bonds to run twenty or thirty years would have to be issued to retire the original indebtedness. Let us not put such a burden on ourselves and our children and our children's children. I do trust it will not be done.

Respectfully submitted, J. HENLY SMITH.

THREE BROTHERS

Become Involved in a Fearful and Bloody Tragedy.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 10—[Special.]—One of the most shocking tragedies in the history of Huntsville, Ala., occurred in that quiet city this morning, about seven o'clock. Hunter Hutchins son of the widely known contractor, James M. Hutchins, was shot and killed by his brother, Wm. T. Hutchins, who at the same time shot and wounded another brother, Charles Hutchins. The three boys were in the employ of their father, and the tragedy occurred in his lumber yard, and the fatal result in father's presence. The quarrel arose over a family misunderstanding, the exact nature of which is not known. All three of the young men were sober and industrious, and the entire city is almost mourning over the tragedy. The murderer, Wm. Hutchins, gave himself up, and is now in jail, racked with the most poignant remorse over his hasty and murderous act.

A Tragedy Near Wetumpka.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10—A special from Wetumpka reports the murder of a young man named Powell by a man named Follins. Powell went across the field where Follins and his two sons were hoeing cotton. A short time afterward Follins sent for Powell's mother, who, when she came, found her son bleeding from a fatal wound in the head, made by a hoe. Follins told her that Powell had given him some impudence. He then left and has not been heard from since. Follins's sons have been arrested, but refuse to give any information with regard to the affair. Follins owed Powell money, and it is supposed that the difficulty grew out of that.

Houses of Ill Repute Raided.

OPELIKA, Ala., May 10.—[Special.]—The city and probate courts were crowded yesterday with a long list of violators of the city and state laws. Saturday night the police raided the houses of suspected ill repute, and caught up nine women. Seven of this number have been before the recorder, and five were convicted and fined seven dollars each. Two of the nine are before the probate judge this morning, and if convicted they will be sent to the convict farm of Bartow Smith, of Tallapoosa county. By reason of the number of railroads centering here, Opelika, for a dry town, has more negro dives and hovels than any city of equal population in the state. The complaint comes from the good people, and the authorities are determined to break up this vagrancy and prostitution.

The Electric Car System.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10.—[Special.]—The electric car system is working admirably and gives very general satisfaction. The brief experience with its workings, however, proves that great caution is necessary to avoid accidents. On Sunday night an end of a wire from one of the poles had been left carelessly on the ground near the depot. A mule attached to a baggage wagon accidentally trod upon it. The wire was fully charged with the dangerous fluid. There was a flash, and in an instant the mule tumbled to the ground dead. The same result would have followed had a man stepped on the wire instead of a mule. A case for damages is likely to ensue.

The Fog Lifts.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The dense fog, which has enveloped the city and bay for several days, has partially lifted. The following named steamers arrived up today: Newcomer, from Palermo; Crystal from Dundee; Cairo, from Vincent; Ailsa, from West Indies; Chateau Igneqeum, from Bordeaux; Panama, from Havana; Edes, from Bremen; Eilsyea, from Mediterranean ports; San Marcos, from Havana; Nasmyth, from Rio de Janeiro; Normandie, from Havre; Baltic, from Liverpool: Ardanach, from Cuban ports; Umbria, from Liverpool. Besides these there arrived a large number of steamers in the coasting trade and vessels of all descriptions from foreign and domestic ports. All report long delays by the fog.

He is Not Afraid of Lightning Now.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10.—[Special.]—M. A. Thomas, head of the Knights of Labor and for a long time editor of the Master Workman in this city until its consolidation with the Alabama Sentinel, at Birmingham, which he now represents, was married last night. The bride is Mrs. Dolly C. Butt, of Rome. They leave this morning on an extended bridal tour through northern Georgia.

FOUND HANGING TO A LIMB.

The Sensational Story of a North Carolina Lynching.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 10.—[Special.]—April 26th, as two school girls, the eldest fifteen years, were returning to their home, just outside Tarboro, and while passing through the woods, one girl was seized by a naked negro named Ben Hart, and thrown violently to the ground. The smaller girl ran screaming for help. Fortunately, it came in the shape of a negro man, who was nigh. The brute failing to accomplish his purpose, dealt the victim blows in the face, and ran, leaving the girl faint from the struggle. He was soon captured and lodged quietly in Tarboro jail that night. When the fact became known, the authorities were certain that if he remained in jail he would be lynched. Friday evening last he was secretly taken from jail and sent to Williamston, thirty miles below Tarboro, for safe keeping. Sunday morning, at one o'clock, an engine with several box cars attached, without headlight or lanterns, without the sound of bell or whistle, went through town in the direction of Williamston. Whence it came no one knew. About three o'clock in the morning the train returned, and little later Ben Hart was dangling from a limb near the scene of the crime. It has been learned that the train came from Rocky Mount. A body of armed men compelled the engineer to fire up and run the train as indicated. After the lynching the crowd dispersed, whither no one knows. Hundreds of people visited the scene yesterday. The universal verdict is "served him right." On the body of the negro was a card, as follows: "We hang this man not in passion, but calmly and deliberately, with a due sense of the responsibility we assume. We take the executive power in this case and hang this man in accordance with the unwritten law of the land, because the written law provides no penalty adequate to the crime; and be it understood that we who have done this act will repeat it under similar circumstances. "THE PEOPLE'S COMMITTEE."

AN EDITOR BANQUETED.

Testimonial to Colonel Taylor, of the Boston Globe.

BOSTON, May 10.—It was a notable gathering of prominent business and professional men and distinguished journalists of New England and other parts of the country that sat down to the banquet tables in the large dining hall of the Hotel Vendome, in this city, tonight. The banquet was a personal testimonial from business men of this city, irrespective of political or party consideration to Charles H. Taylor, editor and manager and one of the proprietors of the Boston Globe, to whose personal efforts the success of that newspaper is largely attributed. Distinguished newspaper men of other cities had been invited to be present and to pay tribute to the personal worth and business capacity of Colonel Taylor, and quite a large number of them came. In addition to newspaper men there were present many distinguished officials and citizens and well known business men. These included Governor Ames, Lieutenant-Governor Brackett and Hon. Leopold Morse. Altogether, nearly three hundred gentlemen participated in the testimonial. Colonel Jonas French acted as chairman. Charles A. Dana was the principal speaker of the evening.

MEMORIAL DAY IN COLUMBIA.

Thh South Carolinians Honor the Memory of the Confederate Dead.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 10.—[Special.]—Memorial day has been appropriately observed in Columbia under the auspices of the Ladies' Memorial association. This morning the graves of the confederate soldiers in the different burying grounds in the city were decorated with flowers by the committees of ladies. There were no ceremonies, but the city bell and the several church bells were tolled during the decoration. This afternoon numbers of people, including ladies and children, assembled at Elmwood cemetery to honor the confederate dead resting here. The exercises were very simple, consisting only of a prayer by the Rev. Dr. Lindsay, pastor of the Plain street Baptist church. Flowers in profusion were placed upon the confederate's graves by little girls and young ladies. Governor Richardson, the justices of the supreme court, the state officers and the mayor of Columbia, together with a number of leading citizens, acted as marshals. The city bell was tolled during the exercises. Memorial day has been observed with as much feeling as on any occasion since it was instituted.

A HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Red Hot Steel Pours Down on Workmen and Fatally Injures Them.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 10.—A terrible accident occurred at the Edgar Thompson steel works which will probably cost five lives. Furnace E was blown out a few days ago and today a gang of men were put to work clearing it out. An arch had formed, composed of coke, limestone and other material, which was still at red heat, and part of the men were working beneath this mass.

Tonight without warning the arch gave way. Redhot matter was thrown in all directions, knocking the men down and in some instances almost burying them. A few of the men in the vicinity escaped uninjured. In a short time the debris was removed and five men were taken out in a horrible condition, their clothing burned entirely from their bodies and the flesh literally cooked. The physicians have no hope of their recovery.

Memphis Beats New Orleans.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 10—[Special]—Memphis again defeated New Orleans, this afternoon in the presence of about six hundred people. Only seven innings were played, the game being called on account of rain, after Memphis had made eight runs in her half of the eighth inning. The locals played an errorless game, and Black struck out nine men. He was well supported by Baker. Phelan, of the locals, and Powell, of the visitors, knocked home runs. Clarke and Vaughan were the battery for New Orleans. It now looks as if Memphis will win four straights from the visitors.

Sunday Base Ball in Birmingham.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 10.—[Special.]—The managers of the Chattanooga and Birmingham baseball clubs, one player and umpire were tried in the police court this morning, for playing ball last Sunday. The other members were not arrested, because this was intended as a test case. The umpire and players were fined one dollar each, and the manager was discharged. Sunday ball will go on, and in the future when men are fined in the police court, an appeal will be taken to the circuit court. There being no state law against ball playing on Sundays, the cases will be thrown out of the higher court.

Bluebeard to Fatima.

Fatima, I give to thee,
To my castle, every key,
Every key, that thou may'st view
All its chambers, through and through.
Thou may'st search them well and look
Into every hidden nook.
But one room thou may'st not see,
That is closed to even thee;
And I charge thee, nevermore
Open thou that sealed door.

Fatima, my darling bride,
All my heart I open wide.
Thou may'st enter in and view
All its chambers, through and through
All save one, and that must be
Closed for all eternity.
Leave it closed, 'tis better so,
That thou should'st never know,
Never know or realize,
What behind it hidden lies;
And I charge thee, nevermore
Open thou that sealed door.

YOUNG MEN'S LIBRARY.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ASSOCIATION LAST EVENING.

Interesting and Instructive Reports of President Van Epps and Dr. Chaney—The Condition of the Library and Its Needs—Nominations of Officers—Recommendations.

The annual meeting of the Young Men's Library association, held at the parlors of the library last evening, brought out a number of members and friends of the association, a large percentage being ladies, who took the liveliest interest in the proceedings.

Judge Howard Van Epps, president of the association, called the meeting to order shortly after eight o'clock.

Mr. Hooper Alexander, secretary, read his report, showing particularly the financial condition of the association. During the past year the total receipts have been $3,485.52 and warrants upon the treasurer have been issued to the amount of $3,020.49, a little over $536 being paid upon debts of the old board. Of the amount expended, $381.15 went for books, newspapers and periodicals. The total floating indebtedness is shown to be a little more than $1,000.

The report of the treasurer, Mr. W. T. Turnbull, shows a balance in his hands of $367.44

Mr. Burton Smith read the report of the finance committee, and also the report of Mr. C. D. Woodson, his predecessor in the office of renting agent, as well as a report of his own transactions in the same office, showing a balance on hand of $68.

THE SUBJECT OF BOOKS

and the progress of the library in this respect was ably presented by Rev. George L. Chaney, chairman of the library committee, who said:

The library committee is happy to report that the year 1886-7 has been a year of renewals in many departments of the library. The walls have been renewed with fresh and becoming coloring; the reading room has been supplied with a new assortment of papers and magazines; new games have been placed in the amusement room; new books to the number of six hundred and five have been placed on the shelves. Three hundred and seventy-three were purchased and two hundred thirty-two were presented.

A new room has been opened for the convenience of teachers and others wishing to consult the books of the library in quiet and seclusion.

As a result of these new attractions the librarians report a gratifying increase in the use of the library, and renewed interest on the part of those who avail themselves of its privileges.

The library committee desires very much to see their institution reaching a larger number of readers and students. Already there are classes in history, language and literature, which turn to the library as their natural assistant. Teachers with select pupils come here to read and study together. In supplying the needs of such readers the association enriches its collection of standard books. It is hoped that succeeding years will bring a large increase in this co-operation between the library and the schools, literary classes and scientific societies of the city and the committee would recommend to their successors more and better attempts in this direction.

We have done what we could with the means entrusted to us, and we congratulate the members and friends of the Young Men's literary association upon the solid basis of good work and good reading which that association has now obtained.

Dr. Chaney's report was greeted with applause.

THE PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL ADDRESS

is an able and instructive presentation of the condition of the association and its needs, embracing information which will be of interest to everybody. He said:

To the Members of the Library Association: In accordance with the requirement of a section of your constitution, I submit this, my final report, of the acts of your board of directors during the past year.

I may say, in the outset, that the past fiscal year of the library—extending from May 1, 1886, to May 1, 1887—has been an uneventful one, marked neither by any noteworthy success, nor by any particular discouragement.

The roll of active membership, compared with the year 1885-6, has increased from 507 to 558, being an increase of 51 members, or more than ten per cent. The roll of membership at present is as follows:

	1886-7	1885-6
Active members	558	507
Members with dues commuted	163	162
Life members	4	4
Honorary members	4	4
Totals	729	677

The increase is due partly to the addition of new books to the shelves and partly to the zeal of certain directors in canvassing for new members. One director, Mr. W. M. Slaton, himself secured nearly 100 prompt paying members to the roll by his individual effort.

BOOKS.

The total number of books now amounts to 12,164 volumes, as against 11,559 in the year 1885-6, being an increase of 605 volumes, of which 373 were purchased and 232 donated. These new books were carefully and judiciously selected by Dr. Chaney and the library committee, and as a result the current of books issued from the librarian's desk quickened from 926 in May last, and from an average of about 1,100 volumes per month for the first eight months of the fiscal year to an average of 1,500 volumes per month for the last four months.

NEED OF NEW BOOKS.

It is confidently believed that if the means could be somehow provided for adding $1,000 worth new books to the library every month, the roll of membership would easily reach one thousand, and the yearly dues arising from this source would pay all of the current expenses, as well as the cost of the books themselves. Twenty-eight hundred dollars per annum will pay the regular expenses of the library, and $1,200 applied judiciously to the purchase of new books would invite a largely increased membership. Indeed, it would seem that the clamor of members for new books must be somehow satisfied, otherwise we can neither expect an increase of membership nor hope to retain the number we already have. This grave question is one which will confront the new board, and on the solution of it depends much of our future prosperity. Any further considerable retrenchment in expenses, is, in my opinion, inexpedient if not impossible, and relief must be obtained through an augmentation of revenue from membership dues. Can the new board bring 500 new names to the roll? Can each officer and director of the new board, by his own personal efforts among his friends, bring 32 new members to the library? If so, the problem is solved.

It must be remembered that our only present available source of revenue arises from the semi-annual dues paid by active members.

BONDED DEBT.

The revenue arising from rent of stores on first floor of library building is regularly applied to the gradual extinguishment, principal and interest, of our bonded debt. This debt at last meeting was $12,000, bearing six per cent interest. We have reduced it to $11,500, paying one $500 bond, and all accrued interest on the entire debt, leaving (after deducting interest now due) a balance of $68.50, in the hands of Mr. Burton Smith, chairman of the finance committee, and exofficio financial agent of the board to collect and apply this fund. The incoming board will probably be able to retire two more of these bonds, leaving twenty-one of them outstanding—$10,500. If only this debt could be paid so that the rents from our stores could be applied to library purposes, this noble charity would have sufficient income with which to accomplish its high mission.

Our estimable vice-president, whose liberality and generosity has displayed itself in so many quarters, leaves us, on his retirement, as a proof of his goodness and good will, a standing offer to pay and retire one of these bonds if twenty other citizens can be found who will retire the rest. Has Atlanta twenty citizens to whom this noble institution sufficiently commends itself, and who have both the disposition and the means thus to erect a permanent memorial of their liberality, and at the same time confer a lasting benefit upon a large class of their fellow beings? I run up the question, in the face of our philanthropists, as a sort of flag of distress, and leave it flying—it may catch the eyes of those who have ability to succor.

RECEIPTS.

Our income for the past year has been $2,408.22, of which $2,010 85 resulted from dues collected, $50 from a life membership taken by Mr. M. C. Kiser, and $347.40 from the individual enterprise of directors, particularly of Mr. Martin F. Amorous, chairman of the entertainment committee. The Tallulah excursion, in July last, under the admirable management of Mr. Amorous, netted about $300. To the above amount of $2,408.25 received should be added $102, donated through Dr. Chaney by his friends, and expended by him in the purchase of a number of delightful books.

EXPENDITURES.

The board has expended $3,020.49, being $510.49 in excess of receipts from all sources exclusive of loans and of rents. A comparative statement of this and last year's expenses is as follows:

	1886-7.	1885-6.
Salaries	$1,819 80	$1,819 80
Fuel, lights and water	476 20	78 75
Books	181 70	107 89
Newspapers and periodicals	97 45	37 00
Stationery, printing, etc	187 58	86.85
Building and furniture	51 01	27 65
Insurance	100 00	....
Binding	15 10	....
Incidentals and miscellaneous	45 55	70 50
Anniversary exercises	46 10	....
	$3,020 49	$2,308 43

Of the above amound of $476.20 for fuel, lights and water $227.35 was paid to bills coming over from previous year. For binding books and insurance on books we were obliged to expend the items as above, aggregating $115.10, and for necessary work on hall and rooms $51.01. For books, newspapers and periodicals we spent, including the $102 purchased by Dr. Chaney, $381.15, which are, in a certain sense, permanent assets, and which cover the major part of the increase of debt made by present board.

Other items in the above statement are swelled by unpaid bills inherited from our predecessors, and for which warrants were drawn by our order. To meet the deficiency, under a resolution of the board, we borrowed in the early part of the present administration, $600 at bank, which we subsequently paid, and afterwards borrowed $500, which is now unpaid, and for which provision must be made by our successors.

FLOATING DEBT.

We owe a floating debt of about $1,010.43, as appears by Secretary Alexander's report. This includes all warrants now outstanding and not as yet presented for payment. It includes also the sum of $536.41 of floating debt transmitted to us by our predecessors. To meet this we have as appears by the report of Treasurer Turnbull, $367 45 cash in bank. We have due to us by our members for dues in arrear, as appears from statement of assistant secretary of date April 28 (minutes, p. 47); $1,172 40 diminished since by collections to May 9, aggregating $136, which leaves $1,036.40 due by members. This is more than enough to pay our floating debt, after making a liberal deduction for irretrievable deadbeats. The simple statement points its own moral. The incoming board should require the prompt payment of all dues in arrear. The assistant secretary should be vigorous, faithful, attentive at all times to the duties of his office, and he should not permit the grass to grow under his feet until this money due the library is covered into its treasury so that it may be applied to the claims of creditors who are always so ready to extend their sympathy and indulgence to a deserving institution.

PORTRAITS OF CHIEF JUSTICES.

We have, as is well known, admirable portraits of Chief Justices O. A. Lochrane, Joseph E. Brown and Hiram Warner. A plan was set on foot to secure by small private donations, invited by individual members of the board, a fund sufficient to procure portraits of Chief Justices Joseph Henry Lumpkin and James Jackson. The efforts of the directors have been warmly seconded by the friends of the library, and the new board will doubtless be able to perfect the scheme and complete our noble gallery. The grand unveiling in the opera house at so early a day as possiale, accompanied with appropriate ceremonies commemorative of the virtues of these great men, will prove an event of conspicuous interest and be the means incidentally of securing a great advantage to the library; I commend it to the favorable consideration of the incoming board and to the people.

In closing my official relations with the association, as its president, I desire to return my thanks to each individual director for his faithful and faithfilled aid in administration of the trust reposed in him. We have not been able to accomplish all we would, but I am sure the board has done as much as it could. The thanks of the association are due to Mr. C. D. Woodson for his faithful care of our finances, both as chairman of finance and as financial agent of the rent funds under the trust deed; and also to Mr. Burton Smith, his admirable successor, in the same relations. I have especial occasion to mention the services of our librarian, Miss Fields, and her assistant, Miss Fanny Wallace. The association has never had, and, as I believe, will never have, more faithful and competent agents. Dr. George L. Chaney, chairman of the library committee, Mr. Martin F. Amorous, chairman of the entertainment committee, Secretary Alexander and Treasurer Turnbull, all have won from their associates, and deserve from the association praise for their energy and efficiency. Never has a spirit of greater harmony and kindliness been exhibited in a body of men drawn together in official relations; and in surrendering the trust with which I have been invested into the hands of the association, I carry with me the knowledge of close and honorable friendship cemented into lasting union.

At the conclusion of his address Judge Van Epps called Dr. Chaney to the chair and made a few remarks, asking for remarks from any members of the association.

MR. J. C. KIMBALL

expressed his gratification at the reports which had been read and heartily indorsed the suggestions made by President Van Epps, especially those concerning increase of membership. Professor Slaton's success in this line showed what could be done by determined effort, and it was certainly a good example for other members. Mr. Kimball thought too great stress was laid upon the debt of the association. He believed in the "cohesive power of debt," and was afraid that should the debt be entirely removed the result might be a laxity of effort on the part of officers and members. The main thing is to increase the membership, to make it reach the 1,000 point if possible, and, as he did not believe in putting it all on the directors, Mr. Kimball announced his determination to do all in his power to assist in the work. He could certainly get one new member and so far as he individually is concerned the membership will be doubled.

The report of the library committee he warmly praised, saying that it was the most admirable report he had heard from any library committee. They have not only seen the wants of the committee but have met them.

The speaker concluded with an exhortation that the officers and members do not let the debt act as a bugbear but go ahead after new members, not being satisfied until the 1,000 point was turned.

THE TICKET.

The next thing in order being the nomination of officers for the ensuing year, the following ticket was put in the field:

For president—Judge Howard Van Epps. Re election.

Vice-president—Colonel Albert H. Cox.

Secretary—Professor Wm. F. Slaton.

Treasurer—W. T. Turnbull. Re-election.

Members of the board of directors—M. F. Amorous, re-election; G. R. De Saussure, re-election; Dr. R. D. Spalding and Dr. J. C. Olmstead.

SOME PROJECTS FOR THE FUTURE.

Judge Van Epps being asked to say something, spoke at some length concerning some projects for the future. One of these contemplates a members' night once a month—a night when the library will be the scene of a social gathering to be participated in by members. In this way he thought the interest in the welfare of the library would deepen and these meetings would be productive of much good. Touching again upon the subject of the association's debt, he thought that a first-rate way to raise some of the money needed, would be by enlisting the services of the ladies and giving a Kirmes. He thought such an entertainment, properly handled, would be the means of helping the financial state of affairs very considerably.

He thanked the members for the compliment they had paid him, by renominating him, and promised to do all in his power to promote the welfare of the library.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

On next Tuesday the formal election of officers will take place. The ticket given above will go through unanimously.

HE GOT A BIG BOODLE.

A Negro Robs Mr. C. Bridwell of Two Hundred and Sixty-Five Dollars.

Mr. C. Bridwell, residing at 114 West Mitchell street, and doing business on the same street, near the railroad, was robbed of two hundred and sixty-five dollars last night by a negro boy who has been working about the house.

When Mr. Bridwell closed his store last night he had quite a sum of money in the drawer, which he placed in his pocket, intending to put it in the safe. In some way he forgot all about the money until he reached home. He then placed it in a desk in his bed room, thinking it would be safe through the night. Soon after depositing the money in the desk Mr. Bridwell left the room for a few minutes, and during his brief absence the negro entered the room and stole the money. Mr. Bridwell returned to the room just as the negro was going and instantly thought of the money. He opened the desk and finding the roll gone started after the negro, who, suspecting that the theft would quickly be detected started to run. Mr. Bridwell followed the darky and pushed him close. Seeing that he would be overtaken the negro began dropping the money and Mr. Bridwell began picking it up. This, of course, retarded Mr. Bridwell's progress, and the negro finally got away but not until he had dropped all the money but about forty dollars. Mr. Bridwell found about two hundred and twenty-five dollars in the chase.

A Bridal Party.

Rome furnished a pretty romance yesterday in the marriage of Miss McWilliams, daughter of one of the most prominent citizens of Rome, to Mr. George W. Campbell, of Birmingham.

Mr. Campbell is one of the rising young men of Birmingham. A short time ago, about three weeks, he met Miss McWilliams. It was love at first sight with him, and there seems to have been decided reciprocity. The young people did not believe in delay in such important matters, and yesterday was fixed for the wedding day. At 7 o'clock in the morning the ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Kendall, and shortly afterward Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, accompanied by a number of friends, came to Atlanta, stopping at the Kimball. They will leave this morning for the north, en route to Europe, where the honeymoon will be spent.

ON TO MACON.

A LARGE PARTY FROM ATLANTA ATTEND THE DRILL.

The Atlanta Rifles and Governor and His Party Take a Special East Tennessee Train—Moreland Park Cadets Go on the Central—Incidents of Their Departure.

Atlanta was full of military companies yesterday, and bright uniforms, flying colors and brass band music were abundant.

In the morning the Dahlonega cadets and the Moreland Park cadets came into the city en route to Macon, and late in the afternoon the Atlanta Rifles escorted the governor and his staff to the central city.

The Dahlonega cadets, about thirty strong, under Major W. C. Rafferty, reached the city on the Richmond and Danville, and from the union depot marched to the Kimball, where they took dinner. About noon the Moreland Park cadets, twenty-five strong, under command of Captain Hall, came in, accompanied by a large number of friends, and after dinner at Durand's mingled with their friends about the depot. Both corps of cadets presented a fine appearance. Their uniforms are nearly alike, both being made up of cadet grey.

Just before the Central train left the switch engine pushed two new coaches into the depot from the eastern end and coupled them to Conductor Reneau's two o'clock train. The first coach was for the Moreland Park Cadets, and upon both sides streamers of even length with the car were fastened. On the streamers in large letters was:

Moreland Park Cadets, Moreland Park Academy.

The second coach was for the Dahlonega Cadets, and upon both sides were streamers bearing the words:

Dahlonega Cadets.

At two o'clock Conductor Reneau sang out, "all aboard," and in a second the long train of seven coaches was moving out of the depot. The cadets were waving hands and handkerchiefs to friends outside, and the friends were responding. The train soon rounded the curve under the Broad street bridge and went out of sight. At Griffin one of the companies of that city boarded the train, and when it rolled into Macon last night it contained a lively party.

The Atlanta Rifles met at the armory in Concordia hall at half past three o'clock in fatigue uniform. Captain Sneed led the company from the armory to Marietta street, where the boys were given fifteen minutes hard work. The drilling attracted a large crowd and everybody was highly pleased with the appearance and work of the company. At four the company returned to the armory, where every member was supplied with a badge. The badge was made of a piece of dark-blue satin ribbon, about two inches long. Upon it in gilt was the signet of the company, and under this was

While the Rifles were receiving the badges and pinning them upon their coats, the Gate City Guard, under Captain Burke, marched from their armory and drew up in front of the custom house, at the Forsyth street entrance. About the same time, a detachment from the Atlanta Artillery, under Lieutenant Frank Haralson, appeared in front of the state house. At half past four the Rifles left their armory and drew up in front of the hall. The Guard then fell in and the march to the depot began with the guard in the lead, the Artillery next and the Rifles last. The companies marched from Marietta into Broad, Broad to Alabama, Alabama to Whitehall, Whitehall to Mitchell and Mitchell to the East Tennessee depot. The line of march was crowded with people, notwithstanding the fact that the brass band which was to have led was behind time. The three companies marched like veterans and made many new friends. At the depot the coaches provided for the governor and his party and the Rifles were upon the side track. The Rifles entered their coach just as the band came up playing, while the other two companies broke ranks.

Soon after the Rifles entered their coach Governor Gordon reached the depot. He went direct to his coach, in which were Adjutant General Kell, Colonels John Keely, A. J. West, J. H. Waring, T. M. Swift and Candler, members of the staff, Judge Nisbet, Mrs. Nisbet and Mrs. Keely were also in the coach. At a quarter to five the train pulled out amid the cheers of the crowd. After the train left the Guard and the Artillery, headed by the band, marched back to their armories.

The train arrived in Macon at a quarter past seven o'clock sharp—so says a telegram to Mr. L. J. Ellis, assistant general passenger agent of the East Tennessee road. The trip was a pleasant one to the party, and was made in two hours and twenty-five minutes.

THE STRAWBERRIES DOWNED HIM.

Exciting Contest in Which A Constitution Printer Figures Prominently.

The "doctor" is one of the prominent figures in THE CONSTITUTION newsroom.

The "doctor" is proud of his digestive organs, but not as proud as he was yesterday morning.

In an evil moment he made the boast that he could eat twelve pies in one hour. Somebody doubted him and the result was a contest such as Atlanta never saw before.

The pies which were destined to become victims to the "doctor's" voracious appetite were carefully selected. They were two apple, two peach, two cocoanut, two mince, two cherry and two strawberry, each about eight inches in diameter.

"Time!"

The "doctor's" jaws came down with a snap and pie number one was soon downed.

Two, three and four went down all right.

"I ought to have a bottle of wine with these," said the "Doctor," as he tackled number five.

Nobody took the hint, so he kept wearily on.

Number six seemed to stick a little and several strong pulls at the water bucket were necessary to make it slide down. More water still on number seven.

The minutes were flying by, but the "Doctor" labored wearily along, bound to die—if he must die—with his colors flying.

Number eight was a hard one. By the time it was stowed away the "Doctor" began to grow white behind the gills. But he made a bold effort and bit into number nine, a luscious looking strawberry pie, which would ordinarily have made his mouth water. But it was different this time. Each mouthful was, however, to dispose of, and finally when it was about three-quarters done, he threw up the sponge.

He had consumed fifty-three minutes.

All this time the negro who sold the pies was an interested spectator.

"Boss," he said, his eyes as big as saucers, as he saw pie after pie disappear, "you'll die sho'!"

He evidently hadn't the highest opinion of his own pies.

The "Doctor" claims his defeat was due to mixing up the pies on him, the mixed pies having the same sort of an effect as mixed drinks.

Officer Thompson lost his youngest son by death last night.

Percy Reeves, son of Detective Reeves, was severely bitten in the arm yesterday by a Newfoundland dog belonging to J. J. Pelot, residing at 180 Pryor street.

No greater confidence could be displayed in the merit of stock than was displayed by J. R. Tolleson, the broker, in the Capitol City Land and Improvement company stock. Mr. Tolleson began buying at seventy cents, and now the stock is quoted from $1.15 to $1.25.

WANTS A SETTLEMENT.

The Heirs of the Late Joseph Thompson Appealing to the Courts.

A sensational suit has been filed in the Fulton superior court on the chancery side, in which Mrs. M. J. Peters, wife of Colonel Richard Peters, Mrs. Joan Clark, wife of Mr. Thomas M. Clark, and Mrs. Julia Orme, wife of W. P. Orme, are plaintiffs and Jos. Thompson, Jr., and Thomas M. Clarke are respondents.

The suit is brought for the purpose of securing a settlement of the estate of Joseph Thompson, deceased.

The papers filed in the clerk's office of the superior court assert that the late Joseph Thompson made a will on the 25th of August, 1879, in which Joseph Thompson, Jr., Thomas M. Clark and W. P. Orme were named as executors. In the will the testator directed his executors to first pay his indebtedness and then divide the estate among his children equally, first deducting from each one such sums as had been advanced. After the death of the testator an inventory of his property was made and returned on August 19, 1885, showing the value of the estate. In the inventory was included the Pryor street property, worth $15,000; Washington street, $5.000; Kimball house interest, $75,000; household goods, $310; cattle, $100; cash, $1,235 83; Kimball house bonds, $45,000; Metropolitan street railroad, $250; Kimball house preferred stock, $1,800; notes, $1 930 and $240.

In the will the testator had charged Joseph Thompson, Jr., with $10,000 and J. Edgar Thompson with $6,000, money advanced, as evidenced by notes. In addition to this, Joseph Thompson, Jr., who was his fathert's confidential manager, was charged with other sums collected by him.

In the declaration it is alleged that Joseph Thompson, Jr., refuses to charge himself with the $10,000, or to charge J. Edgar Thompson with $6,000, and that he will not return the notes, and that the estate cannot be settled until he does. The court is asked to compel him to return the notes against himself and brother, so that the estate may be settled and the property divided.

C. MILLIGAN ARRESTED.

A Trunk Maker Charges Him with Robbery—The Accused Locked Up.

Columbus Milligan, a white man, who claims to be an agent for a patent roof paint, was arrested yesterday by Detectives Buchanan and Bedford.

Milligan is charged with robbery.

Night before last R. H. Cook, a trunk maker had a little idle time and spare money and went out for a frolic. During the evening he met Milligan, with whom he began drinking. Cook, it appears, is not a veteran, and was soon abundantly full. After getting full he remained with Milligan until he retired for the night. Yesterday morning, when he awoke and began taking an inventory of his effects he found that he was forty-seven dollars short. He could not remember having spent the money, and calling at police headquarters explained the situation to the detectives. He asserted that he believed Milligan had robbed him and asked for an investigation of the matter. The detectives were soon trailing Milligan around the city, and in the afternoon arrested him. In the investigation the officers failed to obtain any positive information fixing the robbery upon Milligan, but the information strengthened the suspicion against the prisoner. Milligan will be given a preliminary trial today.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. M. B. Chisolm.

"Oh, how happy and wise is he who now endeavors to become in life such as he would wish to be found at the hour of death."

On the night of May 5th, 1887, such a life halted on the threshold of eternal day. But Death's messenger, urging it onward, snapped the chain, broke the bowl; banished every pain, and ushered the soul into everlasting glory.

To know her was to love her, and the influence of that pure, Christian life none can estimate.

Though the hands are now still and powerless, the cup of cold water they gave to the least of Christ's little ones has become unto her a fount of blessing.

Though the sweet voice is now silent, the lessons of faith, hope and charity it taught, and the words of comfort it spoke, have now from the Father the heavenly praise, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, * * * enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Into the keeping of the Good Shepherd she committed her one ewe lamb.

Dear little Lizzie! May the memory of her mother's life be to her a bright and shining star, that will lead her to the Saviour King, and make her young life a joy and blessing to all who know her.

May she comfort her father, now bent beneath the burden of his mighty grief, and with her gentle hand in his follow the footsteps of her they loved so well.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Stocks as Reported at the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The stock market today showed some improvement in the amount of business done, but the gain was very light and confined to the interest aroused in a few stocks during the afternoon. The market showed little evidence of general improvement, the forenoon being intolerably dull and featureless. The tone of the dealings, however, was moderately firm throughout the greater part of the day. The encouragement was given to the bulls, first, by the moderate purchases for foreign accounts, and secondly, by a feeling that the trouble in the anthracite region will be averted, and also by the confident feeling in regard to the southern securities recently awakened by the return of Mr Sully. In the afternoon the southern securities became active and decidedly strong, East Tennessee being the special feature. The improvement was based on the prospect of the declaration of a dividend on the first preferred stock at the rate of five per cent per annum. The market was firm to strong at the opening, advances over last evening's final figures ranging up to ⅜. The general market was dull but firm, while Fort Worth and Denver, Reading and New England was active. The first mentioned stock was decidedly weak, but San Francisco, preferred, showed unusual strength. After the first hour there was no appreciable movement in the general list, but East Tennessee became conspicuous for strength displayed. In the afternoon, however, there was more animation, accompanied by an improvement in values, in which the entire list shared. Fort Worth and Denver also rallied sharply after a slight reaction. Toward 2 p. m. the firm tone was again renewed, and though close was steady at fractional improvements over opening prices. The day's business was 177,000 shares. Closing prices show uniform gains for a more active list.

Exchange dull but steady at 486½@488½. Money easy at 3½@6, closing offered at 5. Sub-treasury balances: Coin $134,702,000; currency $15,396,000. Governments dull but firm; 4s 123; 3s 100. State bonds dull but steady.

NEW YORK, May 10—C. L. Green & Co., in their report on cotton futures today, say: Very little animation was shown at any time during the day, and the market was somewhat barren of attractive features. Efforts at manipulation seems to have ceased, and with the bullish feeling toned down the tendency appeared to be to get rid or a portion of the June healing, and the pressure had a weakening influence. The offering, to be sure, was taken care of fairly, but at the close rates stood 3@4 points under last evening, and trading was slow all along the line. The new crop remains under, more or less, and, while the cost varies but little, the sustaining power is rather in the absence of an immediate effort to sell than through any support from buyers.

THE CHICAGO MARKET,

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Produce.

Special to The Constitution.

CHICAGO, May 10—Almost the entire interest in the wheat market was centered in the first hour's trading, and in that time the extreme fluctuations were made. The opening and low for June was 85¼c and high 85⅝@85¾c. At the close of the first hour June settled around 85½@85⅝c, and for the balance of the session did not vary a fraction from those figures. As on yesterday, the market became quiet and pegged at a certain point, and the only difference was that point was ⅛c higher up. The impression prevailed early that quite a little short interest had been created yesterday, and this impression held throughout the session.

Trading for the last two or three hours of the morning session was very light in corn. There was a great deal of interest manifested, and prices were strong from the start. June sold to 39⅞@40c toward the close of the forenoon, and trading in that pit was very active and general. The great bulk of business was done at 39⅞c.

In provisions there was some activity during a part of the day. June ribs, which started at 7.47½, sold as high as 7.52½ and as low as 7.37½.

Lard, July started in at 6.97½, sold up to 7.00 and down to 6.90. Around the close it was steady at 6.92½.

The following was the range in the leading futures in Chicago today:

Pavement Paragraphs Caught on the Run by the Constitution Reporters.

A POLICEMAN'S CHILD DEAD. — Annie Wright, three year old daughter of Mr. George Wright, of the Atlanta police force, died yesterday afternoon at her aunt's home in the country. The burial will take place today.

COMMITTED TO JAIL.—Deputy United States Marshal A. C. Godfrey, brought to the city yesterday, William Dooley, of Habersham county, charged with a violation of the internal revenue law. Dooley was committed to jail.

COURT.—In the United States court, Judge Newman was occupied in hearing the case brought by the Singer Sewing Machine company, testing the constitutionality of the law taxing sewing machine companies and their agents. The arguments were finished and the decison reserved.

POSTPONED AGAIN.—The case against Rev. W. B. Barnes, the negro-preacher lawyer, charged with perjury, has been again postponed. It was to have been tried yesterday afternoon, but both Justice Tanner and Justice Butts were too busy to hear it. The case will probably be tried today.

A FISH CAR.—Geo. H. H. Moore, in charge of a fish commission car, passed through Atlanta yesterday enroute to Washington, D. C. The car has been in Alabama, where a hundred and forty thousand shad were placed in the streams of that state. Mr. Moore will bring another car load of fish south this month.

OFF FOR A REST.—All three judges of the supreme court have left the city. Judge Bleckley has gone to his summer home at Clarksville, Judge Blandford is at home in Columbus, and Judge Hall is in attendance upon the Episcopal diocesan convention in Rome. The court will convene on June 13th, to close up the term's work.

SENT TO MACON.—Mrs. Jennie Buckner, the unfortunate woman, who was taken in charge by the police night before last, on Younge street, was cared for during the night, and on yesterday sent to her home in Macon. The woman is wholly unable to care for herself, and was taken care of on the trip to the Central city by Patrolman Hadley. In Macon she will be surrendered to her friends.

A SAD DEATH.—Mary Louise Calhoun, infant daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Calhoun, died yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock at their home, corner Mitchell and Washington street, after an illness of a few days only. The babe was sixteen months old and its death has cast a heavy gloom over the household. The remains will be laid to rest this afternoon in Oakland cemetery at 4 o'clock.

GARRETT-BOYD.—Miss Etta Garrett was united in marriage yesterday to Mr. Frank Boyd, of Montgomery. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's aunt, on Davis street, and was witnessed by a large number of friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Lee, in an impressive manner. Mr. and Mrs Boyd left last night on the Atlanta and West Point road for Mobile, their future home.

FOR THE THIRD TIME.—Information received from Haralson county states that on Saturday night the home of H. T. Cornell, in that county, was again fired upon by unknown persons. This is the third attack which has been made upon Cornell's house but no harm has been done. Mr. Cornell was away from home when the attack was made, only his wife and children in the house. Cornell has made himself obnoxious to his neighbors by assisting the revenue officers.

FINED FIVE HUNDRED.—Joseph Fleisch, the wineroom man at No. 5 Decatur street, was arraigned in police court yesterday morning, and asked to enter a plea to the charge of violating the prohibition law. The case was made against Mr. Fleisch several weeks ago. The evidence was sufficient to induce Judge Anderson to impose a fine of five hundred dollars, and to ask Mr. Fleisch to give a five hundred dollar bond to the city court. Mr. Fleisch deposited a certified check for the five hundred dollars and will appeal the case.

REMISSION OF SENTENCE.—Governor Gordon issued an order yesterday remitting half the fine imposed upon J. H. Kimbrell, of DeKalb county, who recently pleaded guilty to violation of the DeKalb county prohibition law. The petition for a remission of Kimbrell's fine was signed by a large number of prominent citizens of that county, by the officers of the county, present member of the legislature, solicitor general who prosecuted the case and many others. Kimbrell pleaded guilty to the crime with which he is charged at the March term of the DeKalb superior court and was fined $250.

WATCH YOUR COWS.—Recently a great many citizens have written to the chief of police calling attention to depredations upon the flower gardens by cows which are allowed to run at large. The complaint is becoming so general that Chief of Police Connolly yesterday instructed the entire police force to enforce the ordinance strictly relating to cows and stock running at large. It is said that many flower gardens are spoiled because of the negligence of boys employed to herd milch cows, who carelessly allow the animals to commit depredations upon both public and private property. They are apt to get into serious trouble unless they attend more strictly to their business.

WEDDING BELLS.—Last night Mr. E. L. Sutton and Miss Fannie Saye, of this city, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock, Rev. N. Keff Smith officiating. The Third Presbyterian church was beautifully decorated with evergreens, and was crowded to its utmost capacity. After the ceremony the friends of the happy couple repaired to the home of the bride's parents, 269 Luckie street, where a sumptuous repast was partaken of. The presents from friends were numerous and costly. Telegrams of congratulations were also received from many friends, wishing them great joy and happiness. The bride and groom are both Atlanta people, and have many friends here who will join THE CONSTITUTION in wishing them the best this world affords.

A DANGEROUS PLACE.—There was quite a little excitement about the streets yesterday over the report that the workmen engaged in tearing down the old buildings on Decatur street opposite the Kimball had refused to continue the work because of fears for their safety. It seems that in order to push forward the work of digging a cellar, Mr. Gould had the first floor taken out before any of the upper portion of the building had been removed. The result was that, the supports having been taken away, the building began to settle. Two or three ugly cracks appeared as messengers of warning, and seeing these the workmen refused to remain in the building. Later on some returned to work, and the work of tearing away the walls will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

SAM JONES COMING.

The Noted Evangelist to Speak in Atlanta on Thursday Evening.

Sam Jones will be here on Thursday evening.

For some time past Evangelist Tillman has been endeavoring to get Mr. Jones to hold forth at the gospel tent in the near future, and for that purpose went to Cartersville to make arrangements. Yesterday he telegraphed that arrangements had been made, and that Mr. Jones would be here on tomorrow (Thursday) evening.

Owing to illness in his family, Mr. Jones has been in Cartersville for some days, having had to quit his work in the northwest. Next week he will conduct a series of meetings in

THE PIEDMONT FAIR.

THE PREMIUM LIST FULLY MADE OUT.

Accommodating the Exhibitors Who Want to Go to Macon—The Premiums to Be Offered for Live Stock—The Progress of the Work for the Fair Thus Far.

On yesterday the directors of the Piedmont Exposition agreed that all parties desiring to exhibit at the state fair, which opens at Macon on the 24th, would be at liberty to withdraw their exhibits from the Piedmont fair on the 20th. This was done in order to give all the exhibitors an abundance of time to transport their exhibits from Atlanta to Macon. It was first suggested that a week should be allowed to intervene between the two fairs, but it was thought that this course would operate against the state fair, as the exhibitors at the Piedmont exposition would not care to hold their exhibits through a full week in order to remain for the state fair. The other method was adopted as best for all concerned. There will hardly be any exhibit so elaborate that it cannot be removed from Atlanta to Macon in four days. We print this morning as of interest to live stock breeders everywhere the premium list for that department of the Piedmont exposition as agreed on. There will be several special premiums added before the list is committed to the printer, which will add at least one hundred dollars to the prize offered for the finest Jersey cow, beside the liberal premiums already given. It is the purpose of the gentlemen in charge of this department to make the Jersey show the finest ever seen in this country, and correspondence has already been started with leading Jersey breeders in all sections of the states.

THE SOUTHERN SONG BIRD.

Presence in the City of Miss Fannie Hunt D'Alma—Her Concert Friday Night.

Miss Fannie Hunt D'Alma, a charming little lady who has many friends in Atlanta, has postponed her concert, which was to have taken place last evening, until Friday evening.

Miss Hunt—or Miss D'Alma, according to her stage name—hardly needs any introduction to Atlanta people. She is a young lady who, by pluck and energy coupled with very decided ability, has made an enviable reputation in the world of music, and she has only just begun. Two years ago she made her debut, her first appeaeance upon any stage being here in Atlanta, where she sang "Arline" in Bohemian Girl with Ford's opera troupe, the other stellar attractions, of which were, Madame Lelda Sequin, Wallace and Mr. James G. Peakes. Her first appearance was under peculiarly trying circumstances, but she scored a decided success. Since then Miss D'Alma has appeared with great success in New York, Boston and the principal cities of the union, where she has earned the sobriquet "The Southern Song Bird."

Miss Fannie Hunt is a southern girl, the daughter of the late Colonel Thomas Hunt, of New Orleans. Colonel Hunt was at the head of the famous Ninth Kentucky, and later was treasurer of the New Orleans cotton exchange and president of the exposition. Miss Hunt is a neice of Sallie Ward Hunt, the famous beauty and a relative of Frances Key, and also of "Fighting John" Morgan. She has many friends all through the south who rejoice at her success.

Miss D'Alma, she becomes Miss D'Alma when she sings, possesses a sweet soprano voice which gives evidence of a thorough training. Her musical education was obtained in Europe under the best masters and her voice is peculiarly adapted to concert work.

Last evening a number of ladies and gentlemen gathered in the ballroom of the Kimball where she sang for them. She first sang one of Engle's gay, love ballads, then a grand aria by Rossini, following these with Ehrin on the Rhine, by Hutchinson, and Bichoff's Supposing. All of her hearers were charmed with her singing and expressed their gratification warmly.

MONEY TAKEN FROM A SAFE.

John Alexander, a Negro, Arrested, Charged With Stealing From His Employer.

John Alexander, a negro, who has been working about Corrigan's family grocery store, on Whitehall street, for the past four or five months, was arrested yesterday by Detective Buchanan and Patrolman Hadley upon a warrant charging him with larceny.

Early yesterday morning a gentleman entered the store, and in paying a small bill, gave Mr. Corrigan a ten dollar bill. The money drawer did not contain enough money to return the amount due the gentleman, and stepping to the safe, Mr. Corrigan opened it, and placing the drawer in which he kept his money upon the top of the safe, took out the money needed. While he was doing this his telephone sounded, and without placing the drawer back in the safe, Mr. Corrigan went to the phone. In filling the order received by 'phone, Mr. Corrigan forgot about the money for a short time, and when he went to the safe again found that thirty-five dollars had been taken from the drawer. There had been no one in the store during the time except the negro, and suspicion fell upon him instantly. Intelligence of the loss was transmitted to police headquarters and Detective Buchanan was instructed to investigate it. At the store the detective ascertained that Mr. Corrigan suspected the negro Alexander. Instantly the officer started towards the negro to question him, but as Alexander saw the officer coming, he made an attempt to get away. The detective was just a little too quick for the negro and grabbed him as he started out the door. Alexander had made up his mind not to be arrested and fought the officer stubbornly. He was a large powerful fellow, and a free use of the stick was necessary to quiet him down besides the assistance of Patrolman Hadley. Alexander denied knowing anything about the lost money and the officers have been unable to find it yet.

SHE IS OUT OF JAIL.

Etta Henderson, the Savannah Woman, Makes a $1,000 Bond.

Etta Henderson, the Savannah octoroon, who was arrested several days ago, together with Nally Williams, the Atlanta negro, charged with attempting to entice young white girls away from home, was released from jail yesterday morning. Immediately after the woman was arrested she asserted positively and emphatically that she would be able to give the bond. On Monday her attorneys went before Judge Clarke and attempted to induce him to reduce the bond, one thousand dollars, but the judge declined to interfere. Yesterday morning an Atlanta gentleman received a telegram from a Savannah citizen asking him to sign the bond. The Atlantian was made secure in the transaction, and during the morning went before Judge Tanner and signed the bond. The woman was at once released and left for Savannah on the 2 o'clock train. Nally Williams is still in jail.

JOSEPH BERRY ARRESTED.

Frequent Complaints Lead to the Arrest of a Well Known Atlanta Painter.

Joseph Berry, a painter, well known about the city, will appear in police court this morning, to answer a charge of disorderly and immoral conduct. For some time past ladies residing in the rear of the second and third wards have been molested by the frequent appearance of a man whose conduct was of the most reprehensible character. Time and time again ladies have encountered the man, and upon several occasions the offense has been reported at police headquarters. A few weeks ago a complaint was received from the southern end of Washington street, and Sergeant White went out to investigate the matter. He came in contact with the person who was conducting himself so badly, but the man escaped notwithstanding a half dozen bullets the sergeant sent after him. Yesterday morning the matter was again reported at police headquarters, and Chief of Police Connolly and Sergeant White went out to investigate it. In their investigation they came in contact with Berry. At the time the officers discovered Berry he was sitting on the steps leading to Mr. E. E. Rawson's terrace. He was reading some papers, and in no way molesting any one or misbehaving. He answered the description given frequently so accurately that the chief decided to arrest him. Immediately after his arrest Berry was identified most positively by two ladies who have lodged complaint. He was locked up, but was subsequently released on a two hundred dollar bond, signed by Jos. Alexander. Berry denies being guilty of any offense, and says that he never insulted a lady in his life.

THE HOME BUILDERS.

The Fulton Loan and Building Association Organizes.

Last night a large number of gentlemen assembled in the office of Commissioner Henderson and organized the Fulton Loan and Building association. The constitution was adopted and the following directors were elected: J. J. Falvey, P. J. Moran, J. W. Thayer, Wm. Kinyon, R. T. Dow, A. J. Lyle, W. W. Haskell, E B. Rosser, M. T. LaHatte, J. T. Henderson and E. P. McBurney.

The following officers were elected:

President—J. J. Falvey.
Vice-president—P. J. Moran.
Secretary—A. H. Lindley.
Attorney—J. B. Goodwin.

The new association will begin business on next Tuesday, when the first installment will be called in at the office of Secretary Lindley, at 27½ Whitehall street. After that date, and regularly for six years, the association will build two houses every month.

Copartnership Notice.

Notice is hereby given that Henry and Louis Wellhouse, surviving partners of the late firm of Wellhouse & Sons, have formed a copartnership under the firm name and style of Wellhouse & Sons, for the purpose of carrying on the business of the said late firm in all of its branches as heretofore, at the old stand, corner Alabama and Pryor streets. The facilities of the new firm for conducting its business are equal to that of the old firm. Thanking our friends and customers for their generous patronage to the late firm, we solicit a continuance of the same for the new firm.

Auction Sale, Wednesday, May 11, 3:30 P. M.

8 lots and a 3 room brick house, southwest corner E. Harris and Butler streets, property known as the Old Furniture Factory (see city atlas, plat "C.") These lots are central, being only 300 yards east of Peachtree and within a block of the proposed car line to the Driving park. It will pay as a permanent investment to buy and build on these lots, as they are convenient to business, and school and church privileges are at hand. All the lots are level and ready for houses. One lot will be sold with the privilege of the next one, and so on. The old factory building will be sold to the highest bidder separate from the lots. Come and get a plat at our office and select your lot before the sale. Terms, ¼ cash, balance in 3, 6 9, 12, 15 and 18 months, with 8 per cent interest. Titles perfect. N. R. Fowler, Auctioneer. Sam'l W. Goode & Co., Agents.

Auction Sale Saturday, May 14th, 5 P. M.

No. 341 Mangum street—A 4 r cottage with front and back verandas, only 2 blocks from Marietta street car line, Marietta street public school, Third Baptist church on Jones avenue, and Georgia Pacific Railroad depot, and located in the centre of the railroad and manufacturing interests in this part of the city. It is a pleasant house, with good water and nice garden, and so situated that its occupants may enjoy a hot dinner and do their work in the stores, shops and depots about it without loss of time at noon. The neighborhood is good. The noted contractor, Dan Irby, lives opposite. The place will be sold on its merits. It rents readily at $8 per month. Terms, ½ cash, balance 6 and 12 months with 8 per cent interest. Take Marietta street car to Simpson street for the sale. N. R. Fowler, Auctioneer. Titles perfect. Sam'l W. Goode & Co., Agents.

Auction Sale, Tuesday, May 24th, 4 p. m.

The Bridwell property, corner Decatur and Butler streets, on a lot 110x110 feet, sub-divided as follows: Lot No. 1 fronts 41 ft on Decatur and 83 ft on Butler, including the alley. On this is a new 3 story brick building with basement, center stairway, 2 stores and 22 rooms. The building is of good material and the work is excellent, and this building will reasonably rent at $115 per month at a low estimate. Lot No. 2 fronts Decatur street 30 feet, with depth of 83 feet, including the alley privilege. On this is a one-story framed storehouse, renting at $10.50 per month. Lot No. 3 fronts 39 feet on Decatur street and extends back same width 110 feet, and has on it a 11-room new framed dwelling which cost $3,500. Lot No. 4 fronts 26½ feet on Butler st. and extends back east 85½ ft with alley privilege on which is a 5 r cottage, No. 9 Butler st., renting for $10. The brick building making the stores Nos. 160 and 162 Decatur st, with the basement and 22 rs cost over $9,000 and could not now be built for less. Belgian pavements, sidewalks, curbing, and street cars and sewerage are all at hand and paid for; water and gas are throughout the brick and framed buildings; Decatur street is already one of the greatest thoroughfares and one of the best business streets of Atlanta, and Butler street is the favorite connecting link between the south and north sides of this part of the city, and will increase in importance every day. The present value of this property is great for ready business, and no business street has a brighter prospective value. Plats are being prepared. Come and let us show you the property or go and inspect it for yourself. Titles perfect. Terms half cash balance in one and two years with 8 per cent interest, or purchaser can pay all cash. N. R. Fowler, Auctioneer. You are invited to the sale. Sam'l W. Goode & Co., Agents.

Pleasant Vision.

The organ of sight, which is the source of so much pleasure as well as benefit to man, is very delicate. A great many persons, not appreciating this, are using cheap spectacles. These glasses, by their imperfect construction and blemishes, seriously injure and sometimes almost destroy the sight. Hawkes's Crystalized Lenses are the most perfect glasses in the world, being especially adapted for the preservation and sometimes restoration of sight.

Mr. Hawkes not only has the best glasses, but carefully examines the eye of each patient, and gives indispensable advice as to the proper selection of glasses, having had an experience of eighteen years in this branch of science. Every pair warranted.

Frames in all styles fitted to these lenses without extra charge. Gold, silver, nickel, steel, celluloid, bifocal, pantiscopic, pulpit and riding bows, spectacles and eye glass bridges to fit any nose.

Prescriptions filled and spectacles made to order.

Beware of Counterfeits.

We would caution the public against buying spectacles of irresponsibles peddlers traveling through the country and representing them to be A K. Hawkes's, or selling the same class of goods. My spectacles are stamped on the frames "Hawkes" and none genuine unless stamped on the frame, and are not supplied to peddlers any price.

A GOOD SHOWING

MADE BY THE CAPITAL CITY LAND AND IMPROVEMENT COMPANY.

Third Annual Meeting of the Company at Concordi Hall—Reports of Officers How the Affairs of the Company Stand—Election of Directors for the Ensuing Year.

The Capital City Land and Improvement company held its third annual meeting in Concordia hall last night and the meeting was the most harmonious and satisfactory that the association has ever had.

Mr. Jacob Elsas, the president of the association, called the body to order at eight o'clock, nearly every member of the association being present. Immediately upon calling to order Mr. Elsas delivered his annual address. The address was a history of the association and was replete with good advice. Mr. Elsas said:

Gentlemen: In submitting this, my annual report, it may be proper to state, that, owing to my unavoidable absence, no formal statement was made by me covering the transactions of the association for last year.

I may therefore be permitted to include for your consideration at this time, a summary of the results of our work since my former report.

The limited purchases made by the real estate committee from the numerous offerings may be accounted for, first from the fact, that the prices for lands prevalent at the inception of our organization were much higher than those for the succeeding year.

2. For the reason, that, although there was some yielding of high prices in the beginning of the next year, the committee felt greatly embarrassed by the possibility of a long period of depression, that might prove injurious to the company.

3. That the increased demand for money was such, that it prompted the board of directors to lend their funds on safe securities, rather than to make further investments under discouraging circumstances.

Notwithstanding these adverse conditions the committee succeeded in making purchases, as valued by the appraisers, of nearly $200,000—about equally proportioned for the three years. The building committee has been diligent in building up and improving such of the real estate as the board of directors thought advisable; notable among them are the stores on Whitehall street, thereby enabling the association to secure good tenants for a term of years at fair rental, making this property a paying investment. The committee has at this time under construction three new buildings on Pryor street.

One of these houses is already disposed of, the other two are for sale on easy terms upon their completion. The committee on finance has discharged their duty faithfully. The unusually large number of applications for money to be loaned on stock of the company and other collaterals have greatly increased their labors.

The property of the association located on Pryor street, Capitol avenue, Washington street and Georgia avenue is still in shape to be put upon the market. The board of directors favor the sale of some of this land, and plats are now being prepared.

To encourage shareholders to become purchasers the board of directors have agreed to accept in payment for lots bought, stock of the company at 1 20.

The arrangements for a street car line propelled by electric motors will greatly enhance the value of the property on the above named streets, rapidly changing this locality to one of the most valuable and select in the city.

By reference to the reports of the secretary it will be seen that in May, 1885, 7,040 shares of stock were outstanding; in May, 1886, 6,698 shares, and in 1887, just prior to the issuance of the increased stock, 6,298 shares were in force.

If we now take the value of the real estate as reported by the committee of appraisement, such amounts to $185,600, deduct therefrom the cost of same $148,326.73—$37,293.57 balance. To which add the item of interest and rent, after deducting all expenses, netting $17,618.55, showing a total of $54,891.81, as the premium earned on 6,298 shares of 36 installments, or 24 per cent for an average time of eighteen months.

At this juncture it may be proper to state that we have but $116 of over due accounts on the books of the company. Looking on the past as an experimental period in the history of the association, it is a source of gratification to believe that so much good has been accomplished, not alone to the shareholders, but the community in which our property lies.

Under our method of disposing of real estate comfortable homes may be secured by making monthly payments equal to the rent prevailing for the class of houses parties would ask the company to build for them.

After full discussion as to the propriety of securing banking privileges, a charter for that purpose has been obtained through the legislature, conferring broad and liberal powers; a copy of which charter, with notice of proposed action on the same at this meeting was sent to each stockholder thirty days ago. The adoption of this charter will empower our company to do a general banking business in conjunction with the original purposes of our corporation.

You are familiar with the action of the board of directors increasing and apportioning to the shareholders the remainder of the 10,000 shares of stock at par in proportion to the shares then held by the stockholders. The promptness with which the additional numbers of shares have been taken is conclusive evidence of the approval of the action of the board on the part of the stockholders and of the confidence they felt in the value and safety of the investment.

It will be apparent that the action of the board in the issuance of the additional stock, and the purchase of the same by the stockholders, will necessitate at this meeting a change of article 3, section 2, of our constitution. I take great pleasure in mentioning the fact, that with 10,000 shares of stock paid and held by so large a number of our citizens, the success of this association in point of business, is beyond a possible doubt assured, being perhaps the strongest company financially in this city.

In conclusion, allow me to tender to the committees under whose very efficient management the business of the company has been so successfully carried on, sincere thanks and grateful acknowledment for their uniform co-operation and harmonious efforts to subserve the interests of the association by their unfaltering zeal and fidelity.

To you gentlemen of the board, my warmest thanks are due, for the very cordial assistance rendered at all times, making the discharge of our duties a pleasure.

In behalf of the association and the board of directors, thanks are herewith extended to the secretary for the faithful manner in which he has discharged the very onerous duties of his office, and for the courtesies and valuable assistance rendered to the board at all times.

The services of our attorneys have been invaluable in the legal administration of the company's affairs. Their labors have been patiently, carefully and efficiently performed, for which they deserve our unqualified commendation."

Mr. Elsas's address was applauded loudly, and when the storm of applause subsided the president called upon the secretary, Jacob Haas, for his annual report. Mr. Haas, who has been secretary of the association since its organization, had prepared his report, and together with the reports of the treasurer, Mr. L. J. Hill, and the committee on appraisement had a sufficient number printed to supply every stockholder. These reports had been scattered through the meeting before the president called the body to order, and Mr. Haas did not read his report as every one held a copy in hand. The report was a complete one, quite simple but thoroughly comprehensive. It showed the total assets of the company to be $410,767.57. The inventory of the assets, as shown in the reports, was:

Real estate as appraised by committee	$185,600 00
Cash in hands of Treasurer	22,794 02
Bills receivable	203,404 88
Furniture	358 50
Metropolitan Street R. R. stock	2,000 00
Geo. P. Thomas & Co	1,200 00
Arrearage and fines due	116 25—	$415,473 65
Deduct from above the following apparent indebtedness of the company:
Due builders on unfinished contracts	$1,500 00
Unearned interest	1,162 08
Advanced payments	2,044 00—	$4,706 08
Net assets of the company		$410,767 57

The number of shares of stock are 9,886. Then to the stock account the secretary added $1,500 amount due builders on unfinished contracts, $1,162,08 unearned interest, and $2,044 advanced payments, making a total of $417,764 63 when $17,618,55 profit and loss is added. To balance this the secretary showed that $39 680.50 was due by stockholders four months; that $22,694.02 was the amount of cash in the hands of the treasurer; that $358,50 was the worth of the furniture and safe; that $203,404 88 represented the bills receivable; that $2,000 was in Metropolitan street railroad, and that $1,200 was a part payment on houses by George P. Thomas & Co.

The cash statement made by the secretary included every item of expense and receipt. It manifested that the association had received $336,494 99 since it was organized three years ago. The money was received as follows:

From stockholders	$313,566 85
From old material sold	111 55
From advanced dues	1,768 00
From unearned interest	1,320 40
From interest and discount	7,483 03
From commissions	533 80
From attorney's fees	228 25
From rents	9 655 96
From sales of real estate	1,625 00
From returns for adv. delinquents	56 50
From premium on sale of stock	28 36
From rebate on insurance	7 10
From proceeds of legal sales	110 20—	$336,494 99

The credit side of the statement showing how the money had been disposed of indicated clearly that every dollar had been judiciously invested. It was:

Paid for real estate	$138,209 89
Paid for expenses	1,763 66
Paid for repurchase of stock	16,082 85
Paid for insurance	704 53
Paid for furniture	358 50
Paid for salary	6,687 50
Paid for fines returned	2 50
Paid for grading and brick sewers	6,132 77
Paid for repairs on buildings	107 15
Paid for taxes	3,666 51
Paid for street improvements	3,065 76
Paid for interest returned	53 37
Paid for proceeds to delinquent stockholders	72 20
Paid for rent returned to tenant	14 00
Paid for recording deeds	8 25
Paid for accrued interest	362 05
Paid for buildings in course of erection	2,000 00
Paid for Metropolitan street railroad stock	2,000 00
Net amount due on bills receivable (exclusive of notes taken for increased stock and for for property sold)	132,464 48
Cash in hands of treasurer	22,791 02—	$336,494 99

The valuation placed upon the real estate in the reports is its actual worth and was given it by the committee on appraisement. That committee was composed of Dr. J. W. Rankin, Mr. L. J. Hill, Mr. John A. Calvin, Mr. Lewis Gholstin and Major J. H. Ketner. Every piece of ground owned by the company was carefully inspected by the committee and a value placed upon—such a value, too, as every member of the committee would be willing to give for it.

The total valuation of the real estate is put down at $185,600. The property is all desirably located and in it there is considerable outcome, resulting in a handsome profit to the stockholders.

The stockholders, by a unanimous vote, decided to accept the charter given the company by the legislature, and authorized the board of directors to commence the banking business whenever, in their judgment, they did it for the best interest of the company.

Mr. Jacob Elsas presented an able report, which, upon motion of Mr. D. M. Bain, was ordered published in THE CONSTITUTION.

As the stockholders were preparing for an election of a board of directors, Mr. Elsas announced that he would not serve if re elected. The election was begun and resulted:—

W. A. Hemphill, 198 votes; Aaron Haas, 196; John A. Colvin, 194; J. R. Tolleson, 132; Louis Gholstin, 166; J. H. Ketner, 198; John Berkele, 194; David Mayer, 195; C. A. Collier, 199.

The directors will meet Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the office of the company and effect an organization.

CHARGED WITH TWO CRIMES.

Requisition Made for the Negro Who Outraged a White Girl in Chattooga County.

The governor issued a requisition yesterday, for a negro named Henry Pope, now under arrest at Gadsden, Alabama.

The crime which is made the basis of the requisition is larceny. But the probabilities are that Pope will have to answer to a much graver charge.

Some time ago a terrible outrage was committed upon a Miss Kendrick, a young white girl sixteen years of age, her assailant being an unknown negro. A reward of $500 was offerd for the arrest of the man with testimony to convict. It is now thought that Pope is the man and several prominent citizens of Chattooga county wrote the governor urging that the requsition be issued at once.

If Pope is identified as the assailant of Miss Kendrick, it is safe to say that he will not receive the gentlest treatment at the hands of the people of Chattooga county.

The Dixies Tonight.

The Dixies will give their entertainment tonight, and to those who will witness it we can promise two hours and a half of refined fun and exquisite music. Mr. and Mrs. Dixie are a perfect duet of comedians, of singers, of merry makers. It It is difficult to choose two beings who can so well harmonize together their mimics, their voices, their personations. They are a perfect unity in their duality, and one cannot imagine how they could appear separately, as they complete one another marvellously. We hope to see a large and appreciative audience at the opera house tonight and to see this engagement, the last of the season, one of the best in a remunerative point of view, for three clever and charming artists.

THE BIG SALE OF THE SEASON.

J. C. Hendrix & Co. will sell at auction Tuesday, May 17, at 3 p. m. sharp, 37 large, commanding and well shaded lots on Pryor street, Beuna Vista and Fortress avenues, taking in the hill on which the largest fort around Atlanta was built and the hill has since been known as Fortress hill. The lots are well shaded and lay well, many of them fronting on the Pryor street car line which will very soon be operated by electricity and when so run the time required to reach the city will be only about ten minutes, so a home out on this commanding hill lot will be as easily reached as you could wish, from this hill you take in at a sweep the city of Atlanta and all the surrounding country. You can look over the capitol building and see the Boulevard hills, also Peachtree street and almost every part of the city is in perfect view. The East Tennessee shops are nearby and we are reliably informed that very soon the force will be doubled, and now a house can hardly be had in the neighborhood, so a great demand for additional houses to rent to good paying tenants will soon be upon that section of the city, and besides this, the glass works are now in operation, and 100 employes from these works will want houses. Now these are facts examine for yourselves and see if there will not be more demand for comfortable cottages where good mechanics can live in close proximity to their work and who get wages that will authorize them to pay a fair rent and meet it promptly, in that section than any other in the city.

Go out and look at these lots. While there step in just across the street and see the new glass works in full blast, looking like a bee hive, giving employment to so many new comers, besides a number of boys around the city there busy doing the light work. Their fathers and mothers must have homes near by. Get a plat, attend our sale and buy a lot. Take special cars at 2:40 at Gate City National Bank building.
